HOOVER NEARLY LOST HARDING APPOINTMENT

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1928 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington—Some of the details are now being revealed of the close call Herbert Hoover had when he was being considered for the cabinet of President Harding. If he had not received that appointment and opportunity to serve under Republican presidents, there is no telling whether he would have won a presidential nomination and been elected.

HARRY M. Dougherty, former U. S. attorney general and the DAVID LAWRENCE man who was closest to President Harding of all his advisers, was asked by the writer just what took place in those autumn days at Saint Augustine, Fla., when the protest against the appointment of Mr. Hoover were coming in daily to Mr. Harding.

"Most of the protests," he said, "either were from persons who had other candidates for the portfolio of secretary of commerce, or from Republicans who felt that Mr. Hoover had not been identified sufficiently with the Republican party."

RECEIVED MANY PROTESTS
"Mr. Harding was in a quandary. Some of the letters had come from persons in the party whose judgment he respected very much. He talked it over with me several times. I finally told him that if I were president-elect I would appoint Mr. Hoover regardless of the opposition and that he ought to feel it was distinctly his own cabinet and not one imposed by others."

Mr. Harding was also somewhat worried by the idea that there might be difficulties about getting Mr. Hoover confirmed, because of the party feeling. Mr. Dougherty said he had been to Washington at the request of Mr. Harding to prevent any opposition to confirmation.

Mr. Dougherty is practicing law in Ohio and has not taken any part in politics there since his retirement from public life. Incidentally the fact that Mr. Hoover owes his opportunity in the cabinet to President Harding is being discussed here, in connection with the plan to have the Harding memorial at Marion, Ohio, dedicated. The memorial probably will be ready for dedication in the spring and it is believed Mr. Hoover will make an address on that occasion.

MIXED WEATHER MENU IS FORECAST FOR WEEK

Weather outlook for the week beginning Nov. 25.
For the region of the Great Lakes, fair weather with temperature below normal first of week, followed by rising temperature with some precipitation by Tuesday or Wednesday and colder in turn with mostly fair weather in closing days of week.

For the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and the northern and central great plains, mostly fair weather but with brief periods of precipitation, especially north portions, variable temperature but mostly above normal at first of week and lower at close.

24 MIDWEST SINGERS COMPETE FOR HONORS

Chicago—(AP)—Twenty-four champion singers representing 11 middle western states were ready Saturday for the second annual radio audition competition Saturday night over station WMAQ. The state champions were selected in state contests and Saturday night's winners will represent the middle west in the finals in New York Dec. 16. Among those competing for the middle west title are Wisconsin—Phyllis D. Nowack, Milwaukee; Stanley Morner, Park Falls.

STRIKE THREATS CALMED BY INCREASE IN WAGES

Chicago—(AP)—Strike threats of 42,000 railroad trainmen and conductors of Western railroads had evaporated Saturday as a new wage scale began effective on 55 western railroads.

I. W. Higgins, chairman of the conference committee of managers of western railroads, said the new scale, providing a 6 1/2 per cent increase, will add $6,500,000 to the payroll. The new agreement is retroactive to May 1, last, and runs until May 1, 1929.

KING BETTER, SAYS REPORT FROM DOCTORS

Worst of Illness Over, England Hopes—Lung Congestion Is Checked

London—(AP)—Hope that the worst of King George's illness was past was replacing Saturday the alarm that followed the announcement that there was congestion in one lung.

All court life, however, has been stopped. The court circular appearing in the morning papers was a brief four line announcement where as it is generally a fairly full document relating the activities of the day. The circular merely stated that the Queen of Spain, the duke of York, Princess Louise, Princess Beatrix and the dowager marchioness of Cambridge visited Queen Mary Thursday.

At the end of an anxious day of watching for news from the sick room, the nation was somewhat relieved when the official bulletin of the king's physicians, Lord Dawson of Penn and Sir Stanley Hewett, was issued, the statement said:

"The king had a quieter day. His temperature is lower and there was no further extension of the mischief in the lung."

SEA TRIP EXPECTED

If the king's illness now follows a mild course leading to recovery, there is little doubt that he will be advised as soon as convalescence to take another sea trip as he did during his last serious illness about four years ago. His physician at that time urged him never to spend another winter in England but to seek a milder climate. The king, however, set public devotion to duty first and this, added to his well known love of life in his home country, induced him to ignore the medical advice.

The Daily Mail said that despite his illness the king seemed very cheerful when he was visited by a number of personal friends. He chatted with them on a variety of subjects and expressed the hope that he had not been informed of his lung infection.

BALDWIN ANXIOUS

Premier Baldwin was keeping in close touch with the palace so as to be at immediate call in case he should be needed.

Outwardly the royal family was not greatly alarmed at the bulletin. Princess Mary went hunting in Yorkshire with her husband, Viscount Lascelles and later they fulfilled an engagement in the evening.

HUNTER SHOT BY HIS FRIEND IN ACCIDENT

Menominee, Mich.—(AP)—A companion who had hunted with him for 15 years accidentally shot Sven Watz, 29, of Stephenson, while he was on a hunting expedition near here Friday.

The companion, Lars Olson, in the hope of saving his friend's life, submitted to a blood transfusion at a hospital here early Friday afternoon.

The two were hunting deer. Watz, doing the "driving" and Olson being stationed near the runway used by the animals. Watz suddenly appeared on the runway, among the brush, and was accidentally struck by a bullet from Olson's gun.

The charge entered Watz's abdomen and inflicted a wound that physicians believe will prove fatal.

If the young man dies he will be the seventh man to be accidentally killed while hunting in the upper Michigan peninsula this season.

BADGERS ADD 2 GAMES TO 1929 GRID SCHEDULE

Madison—(AP)—Glenn Thistlethwaite, coach of the University of Wisconsin football team, announced Saturday morning that his team will meet Colgate university, Hamilton, N. Y., here Oct. 5, 1929. South Dakota State college, Brookings, S. D., will be met the week before.

30 NATIONS WILL SEND DELEGATES TO MEETING

Washington—(AP)—Thirty nations have responded to the invitation to send delegates to the International Civil Aeronautics conference which will be held here in December. In announcing the group of countries Saturday, the state department disclosed that 21 other nations have not yet replied to the invitation.

Order Bulgarian Troops To Take Rebel Chieftain

Sofia, Bulgaria—(AP)—While troops were marching Saturday on Petrich, stronghold of Ivan Michailoff, leader of a powerful faction of the Macedonian revolutionary party, it was learned that the vendetta between various Macedonian factions had struck within a few days in the heart of Sofia itself.

During the meeting of Bulgarian army officers here several days ago, the men divided into two factions, one favoring Michailoff and the other opposing him. Three men, Apostoloff, Popoff and Budzikoff, were opposed to the Michailoff wing. Apostoloff and Popoff were killed after they left the meeting while the third man was found dead in the street.

The slayers of Apostoloff and Popoff have been arrested. What is described as a reign of terror prevails through out the Petrich district where bitter feuds are in progress.

Sofia, Bulgaria—(AP)—Troops were marching Saturday on Petrich, stronghold of Ivan Michailoff, leader of the belligerent faction of the Macedonian revolutionary party. The order that soldiers arrest Michailoff came after an exchange of defiance between the leader and the government. It was expected that bitter fighting would ensue in the attempt to capture Michailoff.

The government sent an ultimatum ordering him to discontinue all acts of terrorism and to abandon his march on Sofia. He replied that federal members of the Bulgarian government deserved death and termed them the greatest enemies of the Macedonian people.

The government then sent troops after Michailoff and rushed large contingents of soldiers into Sofia from the outlying districts to reinforce the garrison. Strong military forces were placed around all government buildings and a doubled police guard protected members of the cabinet.

Athanas Buroff, foreign minister, acknowledged in parliament that the government was powerless to crush the revolutionary movement. This statement added to the fears of the population which believed that general martial law was inevitable.

RELIEF BILL AGAIN READY FOR SOLONS

Calls for U. S. Farm Board but Omits Old Equalization Fee

Washington—(AP)—An old acquaintance, dressed in slightly different raiment, is waiting for the members of congress. It is a farm relief bill, drafted by Chairman McNary, of the senate agriculture committee and it is to be pressed for a vote at the approaching short session.

The measure calls for the establishment of a federal farm board with membership of 12 to take over the marketing of surplus crops—but the equalization fee, the cause of many a legislative quarrel, is missing. Senator McNary, co-author of the twice vetoed McNary-Haugen bill, thought to follow the administration's lead on how to help the farmers. The new bill abandons the equalization fee, but it puts the cost of surplus marketing on the government.

It would permit the setting up of stabilization corporations over the country to supervise crop marketing, it being the theory that in the event of a crop surplus the corporations would keep this surplus off the market thus helping prices. The surplus then would be disposed of in off-seasons.

Senator McNary said that administration support of his measure is certain and that experts from the departments of agriculture and the treasury helped him get it in shape.

MANY DRIVEN FROM HOMES BY TYPHOON

Several Thousands of Persons Seek Shelter in Philippine Regions

Manila—(AP)—Advices that several thousand persons had been made homeless and hundreds of homes destroyed in the typhoon which has raged through the South Central part of the Philippine archipelago for two days were received here Saturday. No deaths have been reported.

A dispatch to the bulletin from Legaspi, Albay province, said 7,000 persons were homeless and that four hundred dwellings and seven wharves had been destroyed as the result of a 100-mile-an-hour gale. A big landslide at Mayon volcano, a short distance north of Legaspi, also was reported.

A bad storm was reported by Cebu, on the island of that name, but advices from there said no outside aid was needed. Iloilo, on the island of Panay likewise reported a storm.

Communication lines were down in other sections believed to have been touched by the storm. The government weather bureau reported that the southern part of Luzon island and the northern part of the island of Samar probably bore the brunt of the storm, and that the damage there undoubtedly had been heavy.

Beverly Hills, Calif.—(AP)—Mrs. Oscar Miller, 44, mother of Patsy Ruth Miller, stage and screen actress, died Friday night of a heart attack, the second she had suffered this week.

Exchange Closed Today While Brokers Catch Up

New York—(AP)—Trading on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange was suspended Saturday as the clerical forces of brokerage houses attempted to catch up with the "Hoover market."

The suspension was ordered during a record-breaking day which saw 5,842,309 shares traded in greater by over 100,000 than any previous day in the exchange's history.

The work has been piling up in ever increasing volume since Nov. 7 and all other departments of the stock exchange were going at full force Saturday in an effort to restore the books to some semblance of order.

Although the human machinery of the exchange expected to catch up Saturday there was little hope that anything further could be done to speed of the ticker. All sales volume has been left off the tape, but despite its pre-emption the ticker ran almost an hour behind the market Friday. The new high speed

TO ASK ARREST IN ROTHSTEIN SLAYING CASE

Prosecutor Believed to Be Seeking Indictment of George McManus

New York—(AP)—District Attorney Banton was believed Saturday to be preparing to go before the grand jury Monday to ask the indictment of George McManus in the slaying of Arnold Rothstein, the "big-time gambler."

McManus, reputed operator of floating card games and close friend of Rothstein, has been described as the man who could "clear up" this whole thing in three minutes. But since Rothstein was fatally shot Nov. 4, supposedly in a room of the Park Central hotel, McManus has eluded the authorities. McManus occupied room 349 and is believed to have been there when Rothstein was shot.

Although Mr. Banton declined to discuss the matter, the report persisted that he would resort to an indictment in order to get his hands on McManus. The latter is reputed to have been hiding just over the New York state line. If indicted, he could be seized anywhere.

GREEN SAYS 5-DAY WEEK IS POSSIBLE, PRACTICAL

New Orleans—(AP)—In a formal statement issued Saturday, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared that the five day week is "both practical and possible."

The statement said the five day week is a "necessary accompaniment of increasing use of machines and mechanical power" and declared that "substantial progress" toward its adoption had been made during the past two years.

Mr. Green said that 514 local unions report that their 165,029 members are now working a five day 40-hour week.

Committee meetings furnished the only activity of the annual convention of the federation Saturday.

CREW OF SINKING SHIP SAVED—CAPTAIN LOST

Capetown, South Africa—(AP)—The British steamer Cariboo was reported to be sinking Saturday 35 miles southwest of East London. The crew were stated to have abandoned her and been picked up by the British steamship Windsor Castle.

Captain Mitchell of the Cariboo remained aboard the sinking ship. Heavy weather prevailed Saturday night when the vessel left East London where she had been loading cargo for the United States.

Later the vessel sent a wireless message stating that she was aground at Keiskamma but afterward the ship was refloated under her own steam.

It was believed that the Windsor Castle was standing by hoping to save the captain.

PAPER TYPES NEWS AS PRINTERS GO ON STRIKE

Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—Albany received its news in highly condensed form Saturday morning from a typewriter, six sheet newspaper.

Across the regulation size front page of the Morning Knickerbocker-Press the steamer, "Printers Strike on Four Albany Newspapers," told the story.

Copy for the Knickerbocker's first edition was typewritten in two columns widths and pasted on cardboard of newspaper page size. Photo engravers made a one page plate of each of four pages and it was stereotyped.

Hoover Finishes Work On Two Good Will Speeches

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer
U. S. S. Maryland, Enroute to Gulf of Fonseca, Central America—(AP)—President-Elect Herbert Hoover Saturday began putting the finishing touches on the first two speeches of his Latin-American good will tour. He will deliver the Sunday at Amapala, Honduras, and La Union, Salvador.

These speeches have been prepared in collaboration with Ambassador Henry L. Fletcher and John Griffin Mott, a friend of Hoover's from Los Angeles and a student of Latin-America.

Since the president-elect's Spanish is limited, he says, to about the names of California towns, the address will be repeated by an interpreter, who also will have to translate to Hoover the address of welcome by the officials of Honduras and Salvador.

Three speeches are expected to reflect the philosophy which led Hoover to decide on this unprecedented mission. This philosophy is known to be one of "mutual aid between the American Republics through better understandings and exchange of culture, science and education."

So Hoover can get ashore early Sunday for his first visit to Amapala, morning worship abroad the Maryland will be held an hour earlier than usual. The party will use the battleship's boats for the trip ashore, and also for the ten mile run to La Union, where a reception and dinner will be tendered by Dr. Pio Romero Bosque, president of Salvador. Late Sunday night the party will leave for Corinto, Nicaragua.

9 Dead In 2nd Storm In Europe

Shipping Lines Crippled by Gale Intense as That of Week Ago

London—(AP)—Having swept over the British Isles leaving nine known dead and disabled and crippled shipping in its wake, a southeasterly gale Saturday was howling across western Europe.

The storm was fully as severe as that of a week ago. In addition to the nine deaths there were numerous persons injured in scattered localities and much destruction of property.

One of those killed was a sound-sleigh coachman in Liverpool whose signs caught the wind and threw him under a motor truck.

The chimney of a school in Hull collapsed as the pupils were leaving the building and one school girl was killed. The other pupils escaped.

The fate of the crew of the German steamer Herrenwyk which sunk in the gale about 645 miles west of Ireland was in doubt, although it was known that a number had been saved. The Danish steamer Estonia cruising around in the vicinity reported that it had picked up 13 of the crew of 25. A dispatch from Copenhagen, however, said that 16 members of the crew had been rescued.

EXPECT RELEASE OF MURDER SUSPECTS

"Culvert Murder" Case Investigation Will Be Continued, Prosecutor Says

Elkhorn—(AP)—The release of two men held for questioning in connection with the death of a woman was found stuffed in a culvert near here last summer, Saturday appeared imminent but the district attorney's office reported that the investigation is to be continued.

The men were arrested on a John Doe warrant and were questioned concerning their presence in a cottage on Delavan lake where, authorities are inclined to believe, a murder was committed. Investigators found a bed sheet of pillow case stained with blood and this, coupled with the story of a cottage that he had heard screams, led to the arrest.

Several other men known to have used the cottage were to be subpoenaed for questioning, district attorney Charles Williams said. He is certain that the cottage was the scene of the murder of the young woman, he said, as the body was found only two miles distant on the road leading from the cottage.

The district attorney said he will first attempt to conclude his investigation relative to a blood-stained suit which was taken to a cleaning establishment in Delavan last summer. The owner of the coat is sought as a key witness to occurrences at the cottage at approximately the time the young woman is supposed to have been murdered.

Deputy Sheriff Andrew Williams found a woman in Chicago Friday whose name had been found on a bundle of clothing picked up between the cottage and the culvert. She admitted, according to the deputy, that the bundle was hers but denied any knowledge of what happened in the vicinity.

RYAN AMONG GREATEST FINANCIERS IN AMERICA

New York—(AP)—Thomas Fortune Ryan, who died here Friday at the age of 77, was rated as one of the greatest financiers in this country. Ryan had more extensive and varied interests than the man who rose from poverty and died one of the richest men in the world. Estimates of his wealth vary from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000. The conservative guesses in the financial district place his fortune at $150,000,000. This would be greater than the wealth of the late J. P. Morgan, whose estate of $140,000,000 appraised this week, was the largest ever recorded in this city, a center of world wealth.

In traction, railways, mining and rubber, Mr. Ryan was a dominant figure until in 1905 when he retired from 35 corporations of which he was a director. Although an entrepreneur, he was frequently seen in his office at the Guaranty Trust company, and as late as Monday had luncheon with one of the directors at the company's offices.

He was stricken on Wednesday with inflammation of the gall bladder. His age prevented an operation and death occurred Friday afternoon, with 25 of his children and grandchildren at his bedside in his Fifth Avenue home.

EXPLOSION AT TIRE SHOP MAY TAKE 2ND LIFE

Gasoline Lighter in Vulcanizing Shop Is Blamed for Tragedy

FARMER HANGS HIMSELF

Town of Winchester Man's Body Suspended in Barn Found by Son

An explosion in the vulcanizing room of the Binsfeld Tire Shop, Chilton, at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, resulted in the instantaneous death of Florian Vogel, 21, and the serious injury of Edgar B. Binsfeld, 26, proprietor of the shop.

Binsfeld is in a critical condition at his home with severe burns about his legs and face, reports indicated. The body of Vogel, who was trapped in the vulcanizing room, was said to have been burned almost to a crisp.

Fire, resulting from the explosion, demolished the building and destroyed a large stock of tires. The loss, estimated at from $8,000 to $10,000, is partially covered by insurance.

The two men were alone in the shop at the time. Vogel, who was employed by Binsfeld, evidently was alone in the vulcanizing room repairing tires. Binsfeld was in the front part of the building working on his accounts.

CAUSE NOT KNOWN
The explosion is believed to have been caused by a gasoline lighter used to light the vulcanizing machines. This is the only theory advanced by authorities at Chilton, as there were no witnesses who might be questioned.

Immediately following the explosion, Binsfeld dashed out of the building, ran to the banks of the Manitowish river, which flows past the rear of his property, and jumped into the water to secure relief from his burns. He was barely conscious when rescuers reached him.

The explosion was witnessed by a farmer who happened to be driving by. He turned in the alarm. A that remained of the building which was still smoldering at noon, was the walls which were still standing. Vogel was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vogel, Grand-st. Chilton. Besides his parents, he is survived by five brothers, John, Frank, George, Sylvester, and Herbert, all of Chilton; and five sisters, Mrs. Garrett Barry of Sheboygan, Mrs. Leonard McMunn of Hayton, Mrs. Charles Lueberhard of Brant, Miss Agnes of Milwaukee, and Miss Bernice of Chilton.

He had been in the employ of Binsfeld for several years. In BUSINESS SEVERAL YEARS Binsfeld, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Binsfeld, is a graduate of Chilton High school with the class of 1920. After attending school in Philadelphia.

RHEUMATISM IS REAL WEATHER BAROMETER

Chicago—(AP)—Three physicians of Rochester, Minn., lent credence Saturday to the age-old superstition that rheumatism is a barometer forecasting weather several hours in advance.

The physicians, Drs. E. B. Rentchler, Francis Vanzant and L. G. Reventon, are attending the meeting of the Central Society for Clinical Research at the Albert Billings Memorial hospital of the University of Chicago.

The Rochester scientists reported that they had observed a correlation between pain in rheumatism and the presence of a storm in 90 per cent of their cases over a period of years. They found also that sunshine affords rheumatic pains and that a surprising accuracy of weather prediction was recorded.

County Tax Budget Fixed At $740,300 By Supervisors

LEVY TOTALS $4,000 LESS THAN IN 1927

Chairman Mike Mack Praises Board for Interest Displayed in Fall Session

Outagamie county residents will pay $740,300.64 in taxes in 1929, or about $4,000 less than in 1927, according to the tax budget approved by the county board at its final meeting of the fall session, at the courthouse Saturday morning.

The budget for 1927 was $744,400.16 while in 1926 a total of $739,530.77 was raised.

Commenting on the work of the board just before it adjourned, Chairman Mike Mack, Shiocton, praised members for their interest in every matter brought to the attention of the body at this session. He said the fact that bills found vigorous opposition was an indication that the supervisors were "on their toes" and he asked that the same spirit be displayed at every session.

County school taxes this year total $69,500, or about $14,000 less than in 1927 when they were $83,038.25. In 1926 they amounted to $75,562.41. The state tax on common schools, which will be $51,665.60, is slightly less than in 1927 when they were $52,263.42. In 1926 the county paid no state common school tax.

Interest on bond issues for next year will total about $25,000 while $170,000 of the bonded indebtedness will be retired. Interest and retirement on the second $272,000 issue and on a $180,000 and a $100,000 issue, total $23,180. The $100,000 issue also will be retired with funds from the state, for road aid.

BLIND FUND $7,500

The blind pension fund is $3,400 higher for next year than it was for last year. Next year $7,500 will be spent while last year the cost was $4,500. In 1926 the county spent $4,000 for relief of blind. The mother's pension fund also received an increase. Next year there will be $6,440.00 available for this work as compared with $34,000 for this year and $30,000 in 1926. In 1926 the county raised $2,500 for old age pensions. In 1927 nothing was provided for this purpose, but this year there has been $1,000 set aside for this relief. The indigent soldier's relief fund was raised from $2,500 to $3,500.

The budget again sets aside $25,000 for snow removal, the same as was spent in 1927. In 1926 only $3,000 was set aside for this purpose.

A total of $175,265.66, or about $3,000 more than the amount raised in 1927, will be raised in the county, under the 2-mil tax law, for highway purposes. In 1927, $172,617.13 was raised for this purpose and in 1926, $173,665.85.

Included in the appropriations is $75,000 to be set aside in trust funds for additions to the River-view sanatorium and the courthouse. Of this amount $25,000 is added to the sanatorium-trust fund, making a total of $50,000 in the fund, and $50,000 was added to the courthouse trust fund, bringing it to $75,000. Last November the board created both these funds with initial appropriations of $25,000.

GENERAL TAXES $100,000

General county taxes will be $100,000 this year, or $10,000 more than was raised last year and $205,000 less than was raised in 1926 when the general tax was $305,195.40.

Other appropriations were made this year as follows: Seymour fair, $5,000; Fox River Valley Poultry and Pet Stock association, $500; Kaukauna Mid-Winter fair, $1,000; $120th Field Artillery band, $500; Appleton Free Public Library, $500; Children's Home Finding association, $400; bee inspection, $300; for annual clerks' meeting, $200; for Kaukauna, Little Chute and Kimberly bands, $100 each; county agricultural agent, $2,500; county nurse, $3,000; Outagamie County Rural Normal school, $3,500; superintendent of schools, $7,000; building two bridges in town of Oneida and one in town of Vandenberg, $2,922.55.

Several appropriations, requested at this session and allowed, are: $300 for holding health clinics; $500 for boy scout work in county; $4,000 for new heating plant at county garage; $1,300 for employment of a home demonstration agent.

The county also must pay $22,560.10 for special district school loans from the state, these are re-

LIONS CLUB MEETING POSTPONED ONE DAY

The regular meeting of the Lions club, scheduled for 12:15 Monday afternoon at Conway hotel, will be postponed until the following week, and members will join with the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at the Hotel Northern at 12:15 Tuesday afternoon to hear Hotan-Tonka, noted Indian lore expert. Tonka will tell about the life of Indian children as compared to that of modern children.

500 EXPECTED AT P-T CLUB MEETING

Doudna Will Discuss Parental Responsibility at Program Here

Parental Responsibility in Education will be the subject of an address by E. G. Doudna, secretary of the state normal school of regents, at the joint meeting of county rural school Parent-Teacher associations and the associations of the Roosevelt Junior high school and the First ward school of this city. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, Dec. 3, at the Roosevelt school.

More than 500 members and officers of rural school associations are expected to be guests of the two Appleton associations at the meeting. The arrangements for the joint meeting were made by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, in cooperation with the officers of the two local groups.

Other speakers will be Mrs. George Zachow, Marinette, president of the state Parent Teachers association who will talk on What a Federation of Parent Teachers associations Would Mean to Our Schools. B. J. Rohan, superintendent of Appleton schools, will give the address of welcome and Mr. Meating will respond.

After the talks there will be a social hour.

GROUP WILL STUDY CLAIM PREVENTION

Claim prevention will be discussed by persons taking the chamber of commerce traffic study course Monday evening at chamber offices. About 15 persons in the traffic departments of local mills and railway offices are taking the course. Roy C. Ivort, traffic manager of the chamber, is in charge of the study course.

150 BOYS, GIRLS ARE ENROLLED IN 4-H CLUB PROGRAM

75 Boys Actively Carry Out Calf Club Work — Girls Finish Sewing Projects

One hundred and fifty Outagamie county farm boys and girls were enrolled in 4-H club work this fall, winning achievement plans for their efforts, and gaining experience that will fit them for their life work, according to the annual report of R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent.

Mr. Amundson's report points out that 4-H club work takes the place of the Y. M. C. A., Boy Scouts and other junior organizations in the farm districts.

"In it," he pointed out, "they have a definite project to carry out and when completed they are rewarded for their work. Through the little organizations they develop spirit, learn how to conduct themselves in groups, and how to cooperate for a common cause which is valuable to them in later life."

Seventy-five boys were actively engaged in calf club this year in 11 clubs. Eleven men volunteered their services and headed the clubs and each of the boys raised a calf and kept his own record. Miss Nellie McDermott, county supervising teacher, had charge of the work among the same number of girls who had sewing clubs and completed sewing projects which ranked among the best displayed at the state fair.

During the year there were six school harvest festivals conducted at central points in the county in cooperation with the superintendents of schools' department. Fifty-four schools and 1,525 pupils participated and the attendance at these festivals was estimated at 3,500 people.

SEEDLINGS ARE PLANTED

In reforestation work 2,400 seedlings were obtained from the state and they were planted, by school children with proper ceremonies to impress them of the importance of the work, on sites in the towns of Maine and Ellington.

A total of 244 farmers attended 10 meetings last January at various points in the county at which better feeding methods were discussed. Seven equity associations, now existing in the county, have a total membership of 675.

Pruning demonstrations were held in six townships and a spray ring was organized in the town of Grand Chute. Those belonging to the ring purchased a huge power sprayer and are now producing absolutely clean fruit.

Commenting on the soil improvement program being carried on in the county, Mr. Amundson said that demonstration meetings were held in several towns last summer at which farmers were given instructions in proper fertilizing. The coun-

How To Play Bridge

BY Milton C. Work

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Continuing the question of yesterday's discussion, viz., Informatory doubles at Contract, we take up today cases of Auction business doubles which might work better as Informatory doubles at Contract.

Suppose a Dealer starts by bidding four of a suit, or that he starts by bidding one, two or three, and after a pass by Second Hand, the Dealer's partner jumps the bid to four. In Auction a double of an four-bid is business; the Informatory limitation stopping with three. But in Contract there would be few business doubles of four-bids of a Minor unless the bidding side had a score; and there would be certain cases in which, with great strength in both Majors, a player would want to ask his partner to bid his stronger Major. But it would be comparatively seldom that a hand would turn up with which a player would wish to double four of a Major Informatorily and ask his partner to overbid so high a declaration, also it being a free double, a player may desire to double four of a Major for business.

The best opinion seems to be that in Contract at a love score, a double of four of a Minor should be Informatory unless the partner of the doubler has previously bid or doubled; and it should be a request that the partner choose between the two Majors, he is not to name the other Minor unless exceptionally long and strong in it. But Contract experts agree that, just as in Auction, the double of four of a Major should be business.

In Auction the double of two No Trumps has always been considered business; but in Contract two No Trumps often is bid originally, while in Auction original two No Trumps bids are rare. In my opinion it is a very close question—and comparatively an important one—whether the double of two No Trumps should be Informatory in contract. I doubt that any Contract player would double an original two No Trumps once a year—either for business or Informatorily.

In the Contract article next Friday I am going to consider another double which is business in Auction, but which I think should be Informatory in Contract.

13 CASES LISTED FOR COUNTY COURT TERM

Thirteen cases are listed for hearing at a special term of Outagamie county court at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning before Judge Fred V. Heinemann. Cases on the calendar are: Hearing on proof of will in the estates of Theodore Emmers and Martha A. Ridley; hearing on petition for guardian in the case of Julia Kavanagh; hearing on claims on waiver in the estate of John W. Ruppert; hearing on claims in the estates of John Pein, Catherine Streeter, Johanna Knuff and John A. Gloudemans; hearing on petition for construction of will in the estate of D. J. Crowe; hearing on final account in the estates of Rose E. Moder, Margaret Krueger, Mary Thomas and Henry Schultheis.

By "mail order" milk testing associations are testing 3,000 cows while two other associations are testing an additional 1,000. About 20 per cent of all cows in the county now have a production record. That is probably the highest percentage of any county in the state.

During the year Mr. Amundson made 384 farm visits and traveled 3,050 miles. He answered 892 office calls and issued 9,022 circular letters. A total of 162 meetings, not including home economics meetings, were held with an attendance of 18,041.

TALKS TO STUDENTS ON WOOD BLOCK PRINTING

Mrs. Bertha E. Jacques of the Chicago society of Etchers, spoke on Wood block printing at the Lawrence Memorial chapel Thursday afternoon.

"The pictures which impress the world," said Mrs. Jacques, "are not the painted ones but the printed ones because it is prints which circulate to the greatest number of people."

The oldest prints, which she classified under the head of graphic arts, are wood blocks, an art which originated in Japan. At the lecture, Mrs. Jacques displayed a collection of Japanese prints made by Helen Hyde, an artist of some note.

Following the lecture, tea was served by Mrs. H. M. Wriston assisted by Helen Kneebone, Alice Harst, Trudy Weber, Edna Sherman, Henrietta Pratt and Ruth Ann Linn.

MISS BETTY MEYER WINS DECLAMATION

Girl Awarded Loving Cup in George Dame Declamatory Contest

Miss Betty Meyer, who presented the declamatory, The Lord's Prayer, by Francois Coppee, was awarded first place in the George Dame declamatory contest at the high school Friday evening. Miss Meyer will receive the loving cup presented each year by Mr. Dame, and will represent Appleton high school in the Fox River Valley declamatory contest at West Green Bay high school on Dec. 7.

Miss Dorothy Davis, with Eyes of the Blind by Adele Rogers St. John, took second place, and Miss Ruth Cohen, who gave Dark of the Dawn by Benah Marie Dix, was awarded third place. Others who competed were Miss Jean Shannon, who presented Traditions by George Middleton, and Miss Helen Snyder, The Homeland, by Mabel Brown Sherard. Judges were Mrs. John Engel, Jr., Mrs. Bertha Barry, and Miss Norma Greene. About 20 people attended the contest.

TWO CARS, TWO TRUCKS DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Two pleasure cars and two trucks were damaged in collisions Friday. Arnold Sieg, 321 N. Morrison-st. reported to the police that his car was damaged about 10:15 Friday night while parked at the corner of College-ave and Bennett-st. by a South Park Transfer company truck, Rockford, Ill. The truck was turning around and backed into his machine. Mr. Sieg said, damaging a rear fender and denting the body.

A car driven by J. H. Sherman, Seymour, and an Elm Tree Bakery truck, driven by Edward Doline, 715 W. Packard-st., collided at the corner of N. Lawe and E. Washington-sts about 11:20 Friday morning. Sherman was going south on Lawe-st. and Doline was driving east on Washington-st. A rear wheel was broken from the truck and a front fender, headlight, and running board was damaged. Fenders and headlights on the Sherman car were damaged.

Beauty of Model Home Revealed For First Time

Workmen Take Down Scaffolds And Begin Work Of Grading Lawn

Modern to the minutes detail, yet with the appearance of having weathered the summer rains and winter winds for a half century, the Post-Crescent Model Home is rapidly becoming one of Appleton's most interesting and most instructive institutions. Those who have not visited the home in the last two or three weeks will be amazed at the progress revealed when the scaffolding used by stone masons and plasterers was removed. The exterior of the building, save for a little painting and a little stucco work, is complete and now for the first time the real beauty of the structure is revealed.

Stone masonry and plastering as represented by the construction of the Model Home is entitled to a place among the industrial arts, on a par with the silversmith and the goldsmith, for none of these artists show more painstaking care, more attention to detail, more pride in workmanship than the stone masons and the plasterers engaged in laying the stone and applying the stucco on the Post-Crescent house.

Using his tools with deftness that would do credit to a sculptor, Robert L. Studer, plastering contractor gave a lasting demonstration of artistry in stucco by applying a finish to a modern building that gives it the appearance of a bit of Old England transplanted to Appleton. Using a trowel and a paint brush, Mr. Studer worked the stucco into a simulation of years of weather-wear in which the erosion of rain and wind is a clearly defined as in the centuries old homes of England of which the Post-Crescent home is a modern copy.

COMPLEMENT OF STONE
They grey stucco furnished by the California Stucco Co. is a pleasing complement of the quarry-aged Lannon stone of the Schneider Stone Co. into which it blends without a flaw to distract from the beauty of the whole. Here and there a stone protruding from the stucco gives the impression of an ancient dwelling on which plaster was lavishly used to cover up the stone to keep out blistering winds, but it is only a simulation for the wind doesn't blow that can drive even a zephyr through the insulation-insurance of comfort in the most arctic weather.

The motif of Old England doesn't stop with the stucco but is carried into the stone and even to the roof. Centuries of upheavals of nature have left their mark on the Lannon stone used in this home and the artist-stonemasons of Greunke Brothers didn't miss an opportunity to show the coloring and the texture of this beautiful building material to the fullest advantage. Greunke Brothers are proud of their work on this house and they have a right to feel that way for their are few better examples of artistry in stone masonry in the Fox river valley.

NO UTILITY SACRIFICE
But to achieve this beauty there has been no sacrifice of utility and sound building practice. The Mohawk shingles were selected as much for their fire-resisting qualities and their imperviousness to the weather as they were for their good looks. It isn't likely that anyone living now will be alive when it is necessary to re-roof the Post-Crescent home. The slate and asbestos combination makes the shingles as permanent as it is possible for anything man-made to be.

Copper, the everlasting metal, is used exclusively for all exterior metal work. Heavy copper sheets are used for flashing on the cap of the roof and along the gutters and heavy copper gutters and downspouts will carry off rainwater to the sewer in the basement. And even the copper gutters, hardly out of the factory, have the weather-beaten appearance of years of service, leaving not a modern touch to spoil the effect of old age. All copper work is the product of A. Galpin Sons.

Flagstones, popular as long ago as when Nero did his fiddling and consecrated by centuries of service through the Dark Ages to modern Old England add the final touch to this almost unique home. Nothing has been omitted that will give a touch of age and nothing has been permitted to leave a trace of modernity.

But this fetish of age is confined entirely to the exterior, for the interior is as modern as the exterior is medieval. The builders' pendulum swung from the successful effort to simulate old age on the outside to equal success in incorporating in this home everything that is modern and up to the minute. From the steel window frames to the plumbing and the heating the designers and builders were as careful to adopt modern practices as they were to carry out the idea of Old England in the general design and the stonework.

WELL INSULATED
Those who visit the house this weekend cannot escape the impression of solidity and security which the building affords, nor can they miss nothing the elaborate precautions for insulation against heat cold and sound. The most modern materials are employed throughout to guard against excessive cold in winter and extreme heat in summer. In fact insulation seems to be the particular objective of designers and builders.

Hardy blocks, highly insulating in themselves, are used throughout the exterior walls; then they are backed up by heavy Celotex and to make assurance doubly sure Bar-shok insulating steel lath, possessing high insulating qualities is applied to the Celotex.

Furring strips are nailed direct to the Haydite blocks and the Celotex is nailed to these strips, and three more strips are nailed to the Celotex for holding the Bar-shok, thus providing two "dead air" spaces between the Haydite and the plaster, besides the millions upon millions of air spaces in those highly insulating materials.

Not only does Bar-shok lath provide efficient insulation against heat, cold and sound, but its construction makes plaster-cracking almost impossible. It is easy to apply and is easy to plaster, thus assuring insulation and wire lath plastering at the same time, and it is said, at less cost than good insulation and ordinary wood lath. This lath is waterproofed as well as air-proof, an assurance against streaks in the plaster in the almost impossible event that water gets behind the lath.

Plaster on inside walls on the ground floor is to be applied directly to the Haydite block partition walls, without the necessity of lath of any kind. One of the peculiarities of Haydite block construction is that lath is not required and they have such high insulating values that the entire house will be almost sound proof.

Steelux metal lath will be applied to the inside partitions and inside walls on the second floor where insulation is not required. Like Bar-shok, Steelux is easily applied and easily plastered and its construction makes plaster cracks practically impossible.

LATH CAN'T REST
The wire used in Steelux is galvanized and reinforced so it never can rust and never can break down. It can be cut easily to fit the walls and plaster is applied with less waste and with less effort than on wood lath, and it is vermin proof. The sheets are not heavy and can easily be applied by one man.

Bar-shok lath is used for the ceilings of the bath floor because of its sound insulating qualities, thus keeping out all noises from the floors above.

The extent to which insulation is carried in the Post-Crescent Model home can best be visualized by visiting the home and noting the way Celotex is used on the rafters under the roof and between the floors of the second and third stories. The rooms on the second floor are as completely insulated from the roof as it is possible to separate them and this is done by the use of Celotex above the ceiling of the second floor and below of the third story.

Plaster is to be applied direct to celotex lath on the third floor. Celotex also is used between the studding and the floorboards of the second story to deaden sound.

This lavish use of insulating material should and will result in a material saving in gas used by the Gas Era gas boiler built by the L. J. Mueller Co. of Milwaukee and insulated by Ryan and Long, Appleton plumbers and heating contractor. Plumbers have been working about the building for weeks and most of the pipes are in place. Brass piping is used exclusively for the hot water leads in the plumbing system which is slightly more complicated than is found in the usual home because water is taken from a water softener to all the taps in the house except the toilets. The three bathrooms and the two additional lavatories and toilets cause a maze of piping and almost every wall will encase two or three pipe lines, but the house was carefully designed just for this contingency.

But the maze of heating and plumbing pipes is no more bewildering than the network of conduit and armored cable carrying the wires for the Red Seal electric wiring system installed by the Art-Killoren Electric Co. Electricians have progressed sufficiently with their work to give an idea of the well wired house. Convenience outlets are located every few feet in every room and switches are located in the most accessible places. The Red Seal plan embodies the best thought of engineers who have been studying home lighting for many years.

Electricians and plumbers are kept on the jump to stay ahead of the industrious and bustling carpenters employed by Fred Hoepfner and Sons to do the carpenter work about the building. Their part of the work on the Model Home includes all the carpentry, interior finish and installation of the roof. All the partitions are in place and the rooms of the third floor and part of the second floor is ready for plastering.

PLUMBING FIXTURES
Plumbing fixtures, almost a carload of them, have arrived at the model home and installation will start in a few days. The fixtures all are from Kohler of Kohler and include the latest colors, designs and construction features. After the completion of the flagstone walks and the lawn all the energies of the builders will be devoted to finishing the interior of the home. Grading of the lawn will be completed before the end of another week and the flagstones will soon be in place. The lawn grade is almost level with the ground floor of the home but is three or four feet higher than the level of the street. The approach is up a flight of concrete stairs to the flagstone walk leading to the front door.

Cold weather caused little interference with outside construction work. When the wind became too blustering the workmen erected canvas shelters about themselves and set up salamanders which kept them as comfortable as if they were working in steam heated offices.

Building practices employed in this building are as modern as the materials and the design and while the house from the outside looks as if it has occupied its commanding position on the top of the Opechee bluff for a half century the interior is a revelation in modern ways of assuring comforts.

FIRE-SAFE!

When building a home remember that a large proportion of residence fires start in the basement. They sweep along the floor joists and up the studding into living rooms and bed rooms, where cherished possessions or priceless lives may be endangered or destroyed.

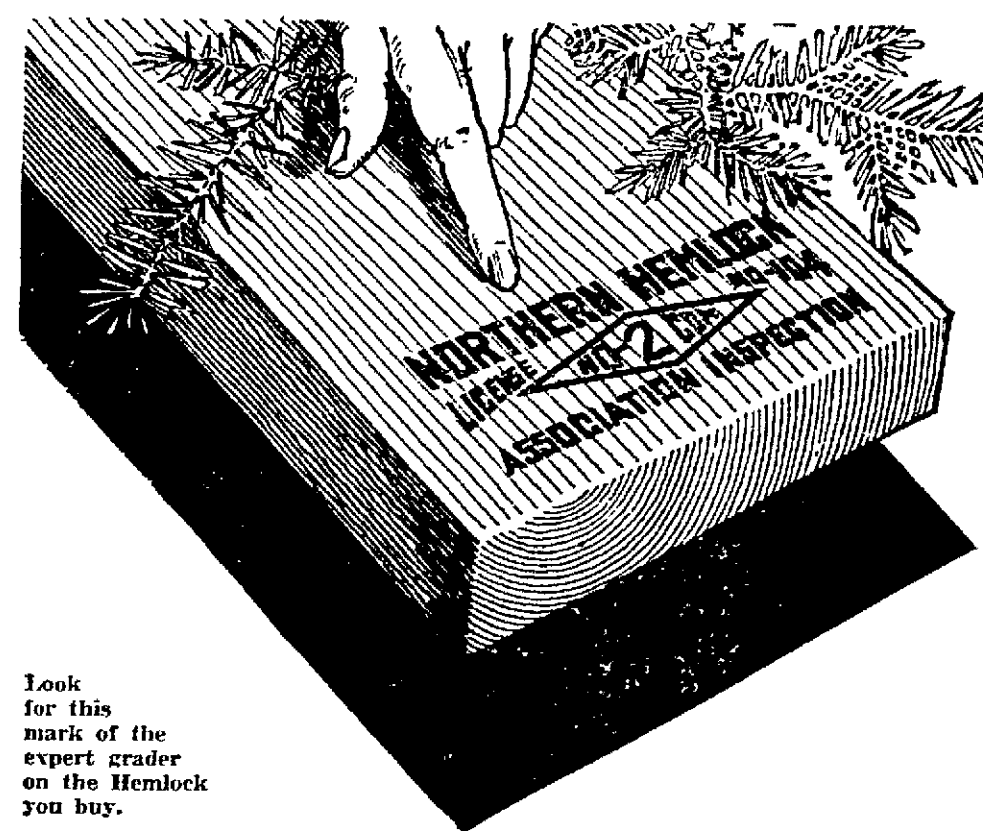

You can eliminate much of your fire risk by building your first floor of portland cement concrete.

Concrete floors are rigid, thus preventing cracked plaster and uneven floor surfaces which are found in so many homes. They may be covered with hard wood, linoleums, carpeting or any other surfacing, just as is done in modern hotels, apartment houses, hospitals and office buildings.

May we send you information regarding concrete floors and fire-safe home construction?

NEWS OF NEENAH AND MENASHA SOCIETY

SEAL SALE WILL FOLLOW ROLL CALL

Civic and Welfare Organization Will Participate in This Year's Activity

Menasha—The sale of Christmas seals for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association will be conducted for Menasha by the Economics club as in former years. The Economics club is in charge of the sale of seals for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. The sale will be on Nov. 30, following the Red Cross roll call. The Red cross roll call and the Christmas seal sale are in no way related, the president pointed out.

According to Miss Robinson, Menasha will need to stimulate a particularly good seal sale this year. City departments, service clubs, civic and welfare committees and public health workers will be asked to cooperate with the Economics club in putting over a seal sale of sufficient magnitude to enable Menasha to carry on the health education, chest clinics, free school milk, dental clinics and supervision of tuberculosis families that has been sponsored by this organization in the past.

RED CROSS MEMBER LIST IS GROWING

URGES HEALTH WORK IN BADGER CITIES

Neenah—The advancement of public health work in Wisconsin is a subject being discussed among clubs by William Ross of Milwaukee, of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. Mr. Ross urges that all clubs in the city co-operate in the movement, pointing out the real opportunity existing in this situation for service clubs. He has been assisting in organizing a new club to be known as the Neenah Public Health council, which is to include in its executive committee, members of the several clubs, city council, health department, American Legion and auxiliary and the Red Cross.

Mr. Ross-claims that many of the public health problems here are not recognized, especially incipient tuberculosis. He pointed out the fact that there are at present 405 cases of active tuberculosis in Wisconsin. Tuberculosis among women, especially between the ages of 20 and 40 years, is the greatest mortality hazard, he claims, as there are more deaths among women from this disease than from the other six leading diseases.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ising entertained Thursday evening at their home on Whitlow-st in honor of Mr. Ising's birthday anniversary. Cards were played. Prizes were won by Theodore Pontow, George Julius and Mrs. Henry Julius.

Miss Helen Greenwood entertained a club Friday evening at her home on E. Wisconsin-ave. The time was spent in sewing.

The Century club held its first dancing party of the season Friday evening at Equitable Fraternal union hall. The party was attended by a large number of people.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Paulson entertained Friday evening at Danish Brotherhood hall. The time was spent in dancing.

Activities for Thanksgiving week at Presbyterian church will begin Tuesday evening with a meeting of the Men's Bible class at the church. Mothers' circle will meet Wednesday afternoon at a brief Thanksgiving service will be conducted followed by a "surprise social." The last meeting of the year for the Women's Bible class will be held Friday evening and on the same evening at 8:30 Friends' Bible class will meet for a supper and social. The annual union church services will be held at 8:30 Thursday morning at Whiting Memorial Baptist church. The Rev. D. C. Jones, pastor of Presbyterian church, will give the sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jedwabny, Jr., are spending the weekend with Antigo friends.

Neenah—Winnebago-co. road program for 1929, as outlined in the highway committee's report, was unanimously accepted Friday by the board of supervisors. Under the program, principal projects to be the Bowen-st. Oshkosh extension, completion of highway 28 south of Oshkosh, and construction of an over-head crossing at the Soo line tracks on highway 26, north of Gilginsham's corners. An appropriation of $40,000 will permit the construction of a paved road on Twentieth-st at Oshkosh, from Oregon-st. past the Oshkosh airport. Another appropriation of $19,000 will be devoted to the paving of a 20-foot width of concrete on Racine-st. at Menasha to complete an unpaved portion of highway 41.

The board adjourned Friday afternoon until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the courthouse at Oshkosh.

36 MORE NAMES ARE ADDED TO RED CROSS

Neenah—The Friday list of Red Cross new members included 36 names, according to a report from the Red Cross headquarters. Those on this list were Miss Petra Gram, Miss Clara Rosemer, Miss Anna Christensen, Miss Dagmar Madson, Mrs. Anna Gram, Mrs. Bernard Shea, Mrs. P. G. Olson, Mrs. Theodore Nelson, Joseph Hyland, E. A. DEMOLAYS WILL MEET ON SUNDAY MORNING

Neenah—Winnebago Chapter Demolay will meet at 10:45 Sunday morning at Whiting Memorial Baptist church to attend the morning services in a body. An invitation was extended the lodge by the Rev. U. E. Gibson, pastor, who has prepared an appropriate sermon for the occasion.

POSTPONE SELECTION OF COURTHOUSE SITE

Neenah—Selection of a site for the proposed new Winnebago-co. courthouse will be made at the January meeting of the board of supervisors. The special committee appointed to inspect and select a site, made the request Friday afternoon for additional time. The committee also asked that it be not restricted to the west side of Main-st at Oshkosh.

In a brief informal discussion, brought about by an inquiry from supervisor George Pierce of Menasha, as to who will own the present property should the courthouse be located elsewhere, it was stated that Winnebago-co. has sole property rights in the property now occupied by the courthouse, and that the premises will not revert back to heirs of the original owners. This information was given by F. B. Koefo, district attorney.

JERSILD WINS LETTER AT CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

Neenah—Howard Jersild, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Carl Jersild of Neenah, won his "C" this season for playing on the University of Chicago football team. Jersild did good work this season, which is his second at end, playing in most of the games.

THE KAISER'S BABBLING

The ex-kaiser has caused a statement to be issued "breaking his long silence" to deny German war guilt, as if anything he might have to say on the subject was of consequence. He babbles like an old man in his dotage. Still possessed of the vanities and ego that prepared Germany for a terrible war and a crushing defeat, "his majesty" seeks to impress the world with the injustice done to himself. He is lonesome and wants to go home.

German militarism did not start the war. "Me unt Gott" strove to the last moment for peace. The kaiser isn't quite sure as to just who did start the war, but he has a suspicion it was Russia, with complicity by France. The erstwhile emperor of Germany shying at the dogs of war is a new picture. The horror of war he professes to have had at that time seems to have fully registered a little more than 14 years late.

The only one in the world who today takes the ex-kaiser seriously is himself, and if the truth were known he was entitled to just as little consideration when he possessed that title as he is now as plain William Hohenzollern. He was without doubt the greatest political catastrophe Germany or probably any other nation ever suffered.

Although opinion is changing as to the causes of the World War and Germany's guilt is no longer unreservedly charged, anything the ex-kaiser may say on the subject is without value. As President Wilson pointed out, the war was not with the German people, but with an insane as well as insane militarism personified in this man Hohenzollern.

PUBLIC CONSCIENCE FOR PEACE

It looks now as if statesmen have gone a little ahead of the people. The Briand-Kellogg treaty renouncing war is a noble ideal of statesmanship which will be valid and effective only insofar as the public in every country lives up to it. In spite of appearances to the contrary here and there, the world has turned democratic. Public opinion rules. Peace depends on the people themselves. Peace, therefore, depends mainly on the right sort of education. This means education in international friendliness, tolerance and understanding.

"The present task of the nations," said a clear-headed American minister on Armistice day, "is to develop a public conscience which will give meaning to treaties and laws regarding the outlawry of war. To do this we shall need to revise our ideas of patriotism and nationalism. Our patriotism at present is built by emphasizing our differences from other people. The time has come for us to speak of our similarities, and to realize that beneath all surface differences there is a spiritual unity which binds together the races of men, for we are all brethren."

This is the original Christian view. If Christendom is to save itself, it must turn Christian.

HUNTING CASUALTIES

"Five dead and 16 wounded." That may sound like the result of a bitter fight somewhere. As a matter of fact, it is only the toll of the first day of Ohio's hunting season. Carelessness, accidents, heart disease from excitement, were among the causes of these casualties. As the hunting season rolls on there will be many more.

In regions where bigger game is the hunter's object, there will be a similar toll of tragedies. Perhaps it is an encouraging sign. It may mean that the hunting fever is dying out. In pioneer days when men had to kill in order to have food and warm clothing, or to protect their families and their stock, most of them knew how to handle their guns. Now, when hunting is only "sport" and is confined to certain seasons, the hunters grow less expert at their pastime and may eventually give it up altogether.

THE TELEVISION DREAM

Mr. Tex Rickard and others who may be fearing that television of their great spectacles will shortly permit everybody to watch them from the fifty-yard line or the ringside while sitting quietly at home, may breathe easily for awhile.

The federal radio commission is understood to be planning "to regulate, restrict or destroy entirely" such "movie" television projects as are under way. Edgar H. Felix, radio engineer, has protested to Radio Commissioner O. H. Caldwell on behalf of the "still picture" broadcasts, which he says should be permitted a few minutes a day and should not be prohibited along with television. Admitting that real television is impossible today, Mr. Felix gives these interesting reasons:

For the successful broadcasting of a football or baseball game at least 1,000 lines are necessary to reproduce the action with sufficient clarity to make it intelligible and enjoyable. The repetition of a 1,000-line picture sixteen times per second, the necessary minimum for a real television entertainment service, calls for a modulation of the carrier with a maximum frequency of 8,000,000 cycles. Using present methods, such a single, adequate transmission would involve the wiping out of all existing radio communications, including broadcasting, radio telegraph and telephone service of all kinds.

Of course this is not saying that "present methods" need go on forever. Radio before many years surely will discover the means of television broadcasting without monopolizing the ether. Perhaps by that time rates will have been worked out with producers of college football, ring bouts and world series games so that these events will be held before a scattering of spectators "in the flesh" but with a million dollar "gate" collected from the toll companies leasing the receiving equipment.

CURBING THE COURTS

The National Municipal league suggests in its monthly review that municipal and state authorities support bills introduced in congress to take all primary jurisdiction in public utility rate cases out of the hands of the federal courts, require utilities to go to state courts instead of "getting the jump" by running to the supposedly more sympathetic federal refuge, and oblige utilities to carry rate cases all the way through the state courts before they can appeal to the United States supreme court.

It is unfortunate that the impression has got abroad that the federal courts are unfair to the public and prejudiced in favor of the utilities in these matters—an impression bulwarked by the number of utilities which have dodged the state courts and taken flight to federal halls of justice. Probably both sides have had a part to do with this tendency—tipping of the balance by some federal judges on the one hand, and unfairness on the part of some utility commissions and state courts, on the other—not to mention the inferiority of public to utility attorneys in many cases.

However that may be, no city or state would be benefited by the laws suggested to deprive the federal courts of this class of work. Ultimate appeal, whatever route is taken, is to the United States supreme court. Forcing a preliminary process of complete state court trial and appeal would merely increase the expense without altering the ultimate result. The supreme court would apply the same principles in either case.

The Great Pyramid of Cheops, at Gizeh, is the only one of the "seven wonders of the world" that has survived.

"Cherash" is to be substituted for the much-discussed word "obey" in the marriage service as used in the Episcopal Church in Scotland.

The Sahara Desert is 3,100 miles long and 600 miles wide—covering an area equal to two-thirds of Europe.

POST-TONIC

The Remedy is Worse Than the Malady

DID YOU SEE THAT headline in the Post-Crescent Thursday. It said: "Post-Tonic in Sledge Trial" and the second part: "Reckless will start at 4:30 Sunday Afternoon at Church." Now that was appropriate, even if it was a little late. If that case had been taken to church several years ago, maybe it wouldn't have been brought to court at all.

Now that the cold weather is drawing near they are hurrying to finish construction work on highways. They don't need to for the snow and ice will make the roads smooth enough for winter. It's always a good idea to keep a few detours on hand for next year—they may run out of them some time.

No matter which teams win this afternoon—see football special edition—the following words will come in handy for coaches, alumni and undergraduates: Poor Material. Bad Breaks. Too Many Injuries to Star Players. Check your choice—it's a foul if you use more than one, and you'll get a penalty to the incredulity line.

DREW A BLANK

The MacTavish was not a mean man. No; he just knew the value of money. So, when the MacTavish developed a sore throat he mediated fearfully upon the expenditure of a doctor's fee. As an alternative he hung about for a day and a half outside the local doctor's establishment. Finally he managed to catch the great man.

"Say, doctor, hoo's beez-ness wi' yo the noo?"

"Oh, fey, fey."

"An' I'vose a deal o' prescribin' tae dae fer coolds and sair throats."

"An' what dae ya ginnally gie fer a sair throat?"

"Narthin'," replied the canny old doctor, "I dinna want a sair throat."

It is always fair weather when good fellows get together, but there is apt to be a storm when they get home.

VACUUM CLEANER

Mrs. Sandifats: "Is this the store that sold us the electric washing machine?"

Store: "Yes, ma'am."

Mrs. Sandifats: "Well, take the darn thing back. I went to wash myself in it and never got such a beating before in my life."

Maid (speaking over phone): "No, sir, I don't know how long the Doctor's going to be gone. He's been called out on an eternity case."

A headline says: "45,000 Will See Badgers, Gophers Battle Saturday." Now that Saturday's here I venture that, although there are at least many more at the game, some won't see it. They'll be sitting and yelling: "Down in Front!"

The number of millionaires in the United States has dropped from 30,517 in 1925 to 29,302 in 1926. That's alarming, and Hoover will have to do something about it. But maybe those chaps are learning more about dodging income taxes.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Saturday, Nov. 28, 1903

Eight hundred ninety four boats passed through the locks during the season which closed the previous day. A total of 10,838 passengers were carried on the boats.

Miss Matilda Bichel and F. M. Huch were married at the home of A. J. Kreiss the previous Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stark who were on a ten day honeymoon to Milwaukee and Chicago were expected home that night.

Mrs. John W. Thieken entertained at cards the previous day at her home on Prospect Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burns had returned from Green Bay where they spent Thanksgiving with relatives.

Louis Lohman was to spend the week end at Oshkosh.

Ben Lyons was home from St. Louis for a few days.

Miss Jessie Merritt was to entertain a company of friends at a lunch party at her home on Meade-st that night.

The marriage of Miss Jennie Miskimins and Louis Stark took place the previous Wednesday evening.

Miss Helen Thom of Milwaukee was spending the Thanksgiving holidays at her home in this city.

TEN YEARS AGO

Saturday, Nov. 23, 1918

More than 50,000 soldiers died during the war. Nearly 180,000 were injured.

Appleton high school lost to Madison high with a score of 19 to 0 that afternoon in the game for the state championship.

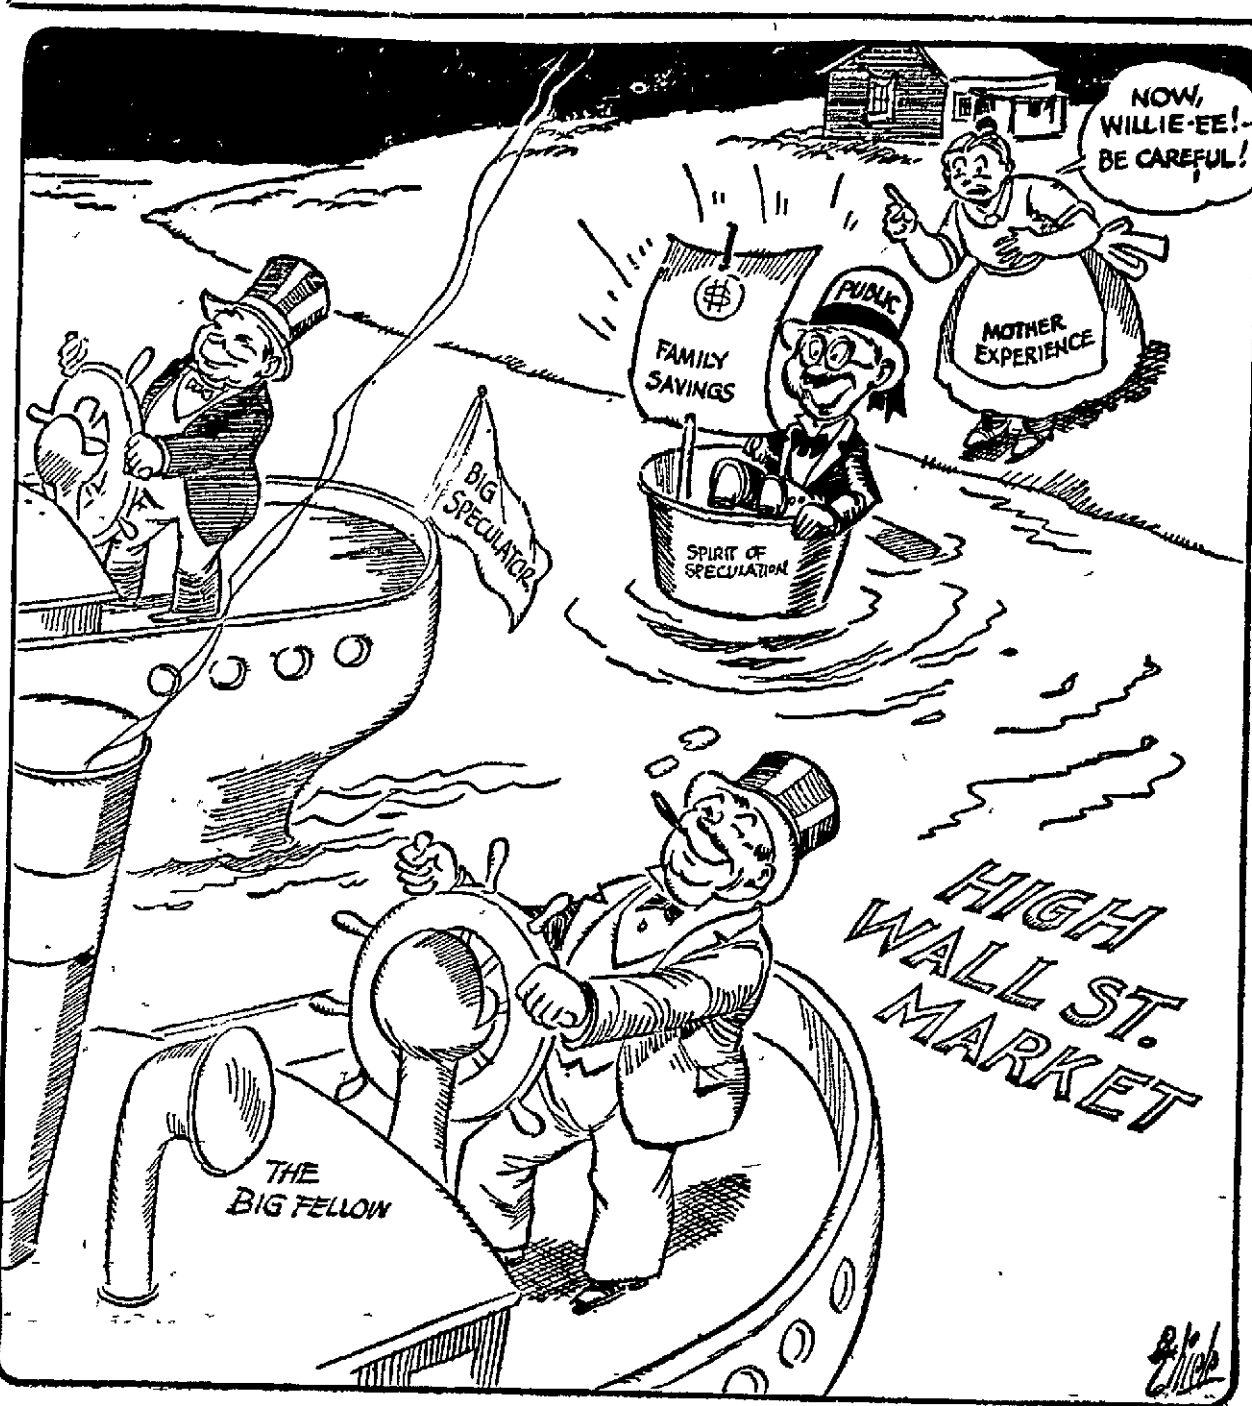

The wholesale price of coffee advanced two cents the previous Thursday which made an increase of seven cents within the previous two or three weeks.

Those who took part in the program presented at the meeting of the Parent Teachers association meeting the previous night at the first ward school were Dorothy Ornstien, Katherine Pratt, Miss Bertha Fuller, Miss F. Cooper and Principal Polley.

A marriage license was issued that morning to Edward H. Merkel and Agnes Diener of Appleton.

The High School Press club was to meet the following Friday evening at the home of Margaret O'Leary. Those on the program were to be Helen Patterson, Letha Damborch, Carl Rossmess, Jack Ingold and Alfred Galpin.

Personal Health Talks

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest will be answered by mail. If written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

A reader who comments something I had to say recently about the use and abuse of soap urges that I write a special article on soap for office people. He knows of a Wall street office that supplies no soap for employees, and often the employees are dirty to look at and to work with. The correspondent believes it might be of real benefit if I would lay down a rule that at least two baths a week are necessary for office workers. In return for his service the correspondent offers me a suggestion for longevity. He has discovered a secret that favors long life, and he divulges it in these words:

It is the cleansing of the alimentary canal and lazy colon of the human body by a (proprietary) brand of liquid petroleum, paraffin or mineral oil. I am using the (particular brand mentioned). After the cleansing of the entire system of the human body, may I suggest beef soup, lamb stew, fresh vegetables, ripe fruit and milk.

Aside from the essential hygienic importance of an adequate supply of soap, running water and towels wherever people work or eat, I cannot conceive how any business firm can afford to tolerate dirty employees.

Before I can put much enthusiasm into the advocacy of more soap and water in ordinary business establishments, I should like to have some evidence that the public demands more soap and water in places where it is handled, served or eaten, notably, hot dog stands, ice cream joints, soft drink shops, soda fountains, quick lunch counters and regular restaurants. It seems to me that our public health departments are too liberal in the granting of licenses to many such eating or drinking places where there are no facilities for the patron to wash their hands.

The correspondent's longevity secret does not appeal to me. It sounds so much like the circulars that come with the innumerable trade brands of mineral oil and Old Doctor Kid's in his balmy days, could not hold a candle to these mineral oil vendors. In exceptional cases where there happens to be an organic abnormality that retards normal peristalsis (wave-like propulsive movements) liquid petroleum may be preferable to ordinary physics, though I believe ordinary soft petroleum (otherwise known as petroleum jelly), either the yellow or white sort, is even better than the liquid article.

If one can overcome the repugnance of swallowing it. The clear or "white" article is tasteless, and I believe a teaspoonful of it is as effective as a lubricant for the intestine as three times as much of the liquid form. We should not fall into error by thinking that the frequent or habitual use of any such remedial agent, or any form of enema, "cleanses" the system. That is scientifically absurd, and besides it leads to a great deal of unwholesome introspection, along the line of that hypothetical state which the near doctors and the sharp shooting quacks so glibly define as "autointoxication."

Once more it is quite necessary and only fair to mention that so far as our scientific knowledge goes, no poisoning of the system ever occurs from any poison that is produced in the intestine, save in certain desperate cases of intestinal obstruction.

Therefore, if you are not already hopelessly in the toils of these autointoxication artists, I warn you: look out before you start looking in. If you're already looking in, never mind, there's nothing a mere health advisor can do for you anyway.

Keep right on paying tribute to the sick people who so patiently educate you on "autointoxication."

London—It's a short life for dear hubby who is not heepected. At least they don't live as long as the word of Dr. C. W. ## See-Sawing On Broadway

By Gilbert Swan

New York—Those "floating" dice games that bobbed into the limelight with the murder of Arnold Rothstein, the gambling king, possess that fantastic unreality to be found now and then intense scenes caught by the motion picture camera.

Just now, I am told, they have suspended temporarily while the hunt for the Rothstein slayers is warm. But this will not be for long. Soon the green collapsible tables will be "floating" from one hotel to another about the Broadway beat. Soon the dice will be galloping along the green cover and bouncing against the rubber background which is maintained to "keep the dice honest."

If such things interest you, come with me for a moment on a "floating" dice game tour. It begins in the street with a "steerer." All the "wise ones" know the "steerer," and vice versa. Only through him can the whereabouts of the game be obtained. If you are a wise one you will know without being told that it's best to arrive on foot or by taxicab. The "big boys" don't want a suspicious line of autos in front of the gaming place.

A guard meets you at the first door. Even if he passes you, there is a second—and more difficult—guard to pass. When the final door to the gaming room is reached a third guard lets you in.

As the door swings open the sense of fantastic unreality becomes complete.

All the fringe of the game amble, guenillas, of the best Chicago breed. They carry one hand just a bit too close to a coat pocket. You don't have to be told that one hand grasps a Chicago "rocket" gun. The notion may strike you that you've stepped into the second act of a typical crook drama. An uncomfortable feeling of danger is likely to be a second reaction. But, if you know what's what, you'll know also that this menacing fringe of gunmen is maintained presumably for your protection. Dice games have been known to be a favorite "pickings" for stickup men. The stickups know that big money is afloat, and may come in hence

CIVIC CLUBS WILL HEAR ADDRESS ON INDIAN CHILD LIFE

Noted Lore Expert and Interpreter to Appear Here Next Week

Indian child life as compared to the life of children today will be discussed by Hotan-Tonka, noted Indian lore expert and interpreter, at a joint meeting of the Rotary, Lion and Kiwanis club's at the Hotel Northern at 12:15 Tuesday afternoon. The regular weekly meetings of the clubs will be postponed until the following week.

Hotan has been presenting lectures throughout the state during the past month and will devote one day to this vicinity. At 9:30 Tuesday morning he will address the Neenah high school and at 11 o'clock the Menasha high school. At 12:15 Tuesday afternoon he is to address local civic clubs and at 2:30 will talk to students of the Appleton high school in the school auditorium.

His feature presentation will be given at 7:30 Tuesday evening for boys of Appleton and their parents in the high school auditorium. The program will be in the form of a scout rally and several valley council boy scouts will assist Tonka in putting on an exhibition of Indian life. He will display Indian costumes of different tribes and is to present Indian ceremonial dances and songs.

Hotan is especially interested in boys work having conducted camps during the summer of months over a period of several years. Plans are being arranged by the valley council to bring him here again next summer to Camp Chickagami, valley scout camp on Lake Winnebago, to teach local scouts Indian lore.

THREE COUNTIES SUBSCRIBE FUNDS FOR STATE TOUR

Plans for Another Advertising Trip May Be Presented to Legislature

Madison—(AP)—State officers interested in the proposal that another advertising tour be staged by the state or by state agencies or divisions, have been advised that at least three counties have already subscribed funds toward such a tour in 1929.

Waupaca-co's board of supervisors has appropriated $500 for such a tour, or for the county's exhibits on the train. Clark-co added $50 to this amount to make its provision for an exhibit $550.

These appropriations are made to an "immigration board" because under the law, the counties are not empowered to appropriate funds for self-advertising. They may, however, give funds to a board that would promote immigration into the county.

These boards were construed by the attorney before the Wisconsin Southern Tour last year as eligible to work for and participate in a state advertising tour.

Plans are also being laid to present the scheme to the state legislature for a state appropriation, as was made last year, making the trip an official state message bearer to the territory covered by the touring party. This territory, according to previous plans, would be the middle-west this year, states along the Mississippi river to the gulf, being the campaign grounds of the Bad-

Kenneth Chappelle, Robert Potter, and William Mullen, all employed here by the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company, and William Schaefer of the Oshkosh depot have organized a male quartet to be called the Old Northern Wisconsin Employee's quartet. Their first concert will be sung at a meeting of the Old Northern Wisconsin Railroad Employees' club at Moose hall, Fond du Lac, next Friday evening. Miles Jackson of Neenah is piano accompanist.

It is expected about eight local members of the club will attend the monthly meeting at Fond du Lac next Friday. Plans for winter activities and regular business matters will be discussed. A social hour will follow the business meeting. Representatives of the club from throughout the valley will be present.

An opinion from the attorney general's office made public today to M. S. King, district attorney of Wood county, Wisconsin Rapids, reiterated the previous assertion of the state legal department that the county board cannot appropriate funds directly to the Good Will tour. Adeline J. Meyer, assistant attorney general called Mr. King's attention to the opinion of Jan. 4, 1928 to George E. O'Connor, district attorney general of Forest county to that effect.

Fred Hanson, blonde Swedish pantryman of the ill-fated Steamer VESTRIS, which recently plunged to the bottom of the ocean 240 miles off the Virginia Capes, causing the death of 111 persons, took a photograph on the deck of the sinking ship just before she went down.

This picture is the most remarkable action photograph ever taken of a sea disaster—probably the only photograph ever taken aboard a sinking ship. It shows the mad rush of passengers and crew for the lifeboats just a few minutes before the sinking—life preservers on, FIGHTING DEATH! It shows the frantic efforts of men trying to escape from the doomed vessel. In their faces it expresses most graphically the FEAR which gripped everyone on board.

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History - a Six in the price range of the four!

The Chevrolet Motor Company announces The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History... a Six in the price range of the four!

Spectacular as Chevrolet's achievements have been in the past... notable as its engineering triumphs have proved themselves to be—this remarkable new car dwarfs every previous Chevrolet accomplishment. Not only does it introduce into the low-priced field a new measure of performance, comfort, beauty and style—but it is sold at prices so low as to alter every previous conception of motor car value.

The new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine—developed from more than a hundred motors designed especially for this sensational car—stands out as an engineering masterpiece. With a power increase of approximately 32% over the previous Chevrolet motor... with sensationally greater speed and faster acceleration—it offers a type of performance that is literally astounding... even to those who have been accustomed to driving cars costing hundreds of dollars more. And it affords an economy averaging better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

In appearance, this Outstanding Chevrolet is destined to become an automotive sensation—so smart, so stylish and so distinctively appointed that it rivals the costliest custom creations. The marvelous new Fisher bodies are longer, lower and roomier with adjustable driver's seat in all closed models—and reveal the matchless artistry of Fisher designers. With their modish new colors, their smart dual mouldings and their distinctive concave pillars, they achieve a degree of original beauty that has seldom been equalled.

You are cordially invited to visit our showroom and secure complete and detailed information on this sensational new car which will be ready for delivery beginning January 1st.

D. A. R. Is Told About Fidac Meet

MEMBERS of the Daughters of the American Revolution were told to be grateful to their forefathers for the freedom which they inculcated as a principle of the United States by Mrs. W. Z. Stuart, who addressed Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. J. Richardson, E. Pacific-st. Mrs. Stuart, who is state chairman of the national defense committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution, spoke on experiences gained on a recent trip to Europe. She told the Daughters that women in the United States have more liberty and freedom than in any other country.

Mrs. Stuart attended a conference of Fidac, an international organization of persons who were combatants in the world war, as an unofficial delegate. She sailed on the Leviathan and gave an international talk while on board. The consensus of opinion of the guests was that the Kellogg treaty, which was signed during Mrs. Stuart's passage, is but a gesture and does not have the strength and importance many persons attribute to it.

Remarkable comradeship characterized the meetings of Fidac, according to the speaker. She attended a meeting of a council of 60 persons at Luxembourg and also was present at sessions of the League of Nations. The two organizations differ in personnel, said Mrs. Stuart, but the League of Nations is composed of leaders, while Fidac is made up of men who actually did fight.

After the Luxembourg council, Mrs. Stuart went to Bucharest, the capital of Roumania. Members of the delegation were guests of the Roumanian government. In describing the country, Mrs. Stuart said she was impressed by the wheat and corn fields, similar to the wheat and corn fields of Illinois, and the horses and cattle. The delegation received a hearty welcome everywhere and found the Roumanian people, gentle, and artistic. English is compulsory in the school system of Roumania.

Another war in five years is regarded as inevitable by the Roumanian people, said Mrs. Stuart. She told the D. A. R. members that the government looks to the United States for guidance and example. An effort is being made to change the autocracy to a democracy and the people are being prepared to meet such a change. Two audiences were had with Queen Marie and the delegation presented a white die skin Indian outfit to the boy king, Michael. As an example of the far reaching influence of American ideas Mrs. Stuart gave the fact that Prince Carol's estate is presided over by a graduate of the agricultural college of the University of Wisconsin.

CLUB MEETINGS

Miss Leone Vogel 314 S. Badger-ave. entertained the R. B. bridge club Friday night at her home. Prizes at bridge were won by Miss Knapstein, Miss Louise Reetz and Miss Martha Lueckel. Mrs. A. Weissgerber will entertain the club next Wednesday at her home on E. Wisconsin-ave.

The Novel-History club will be entertained at the home of Miss Anne Buchanan, E. College-ave. at 7:30 Monday evening. Miss Ethel Carter will continue the reading of "Destiny Bay" by Donn Byrne.

There will be initiation of a class of candidates at a special meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Moose temple. The meeting will be followed by a dinner at 5 o'clock served by members of the Women of Mooseheart Legion.

A special obligatory service will be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening by members of Fidelity chapter, No. 84, Order of Eastern Star at Masonic temple. There will be floral decorations and musical numbers by the Misses Carla and Olga Heller and George Nixon. The obligatory service, which is conducted by the officers, is an annual event.

WHIRLWIND ELEANOR EARLY

COPYRIGHT 1928 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED SYBIL THORNE is going to have a baby. Only two people know of her marriage and both were pledged to secrecy. Sybil meant that no one else should ever know. But now she must tell—and there are times Sybil thinks she had rather die.

The father of her unborn child is RICHARD EUSTIS, an adventurer and a philanthropist. Sybil lived with him only two weeks, during a period when she was supposed to be vacationing in Havana with MABEL BLAKE. Terminating a nearly honeymoon, Sybil returns to Boston with Mabel, determined that no one shall ever know of her sordid romance.

When she learns, however, that she is going to have a child, she is forced to tell her secret. Mabel is helpful and sympathetic. Her brother, TAD, is quite wonderful about it. But VALENTINE, her brother's wife, is inclined to scoff and taunt. Poor MRS. THORNE, afraid of a scandal, sets immediately about getting arrangements printed.

Then Sybil tells CRAIG NEWHALL, who has loved her for years and hoped that some day they would marry him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXX

Only Craig's lips twitched and a little cord in his neck. Sybil thought of a sketch she had seen of a foreign dictator with a lion's head. People called him the Tragic Man of Destiny.

Now Craig looked like that—a composite of tragedy. She saw the agony in his eyes and could have cried aloud. Her own were full of fear—wild, hunted fear. And so they sat—reading one another's misery, in dreadful silence.

She reached and touched his hand. It lay on the tablecloth, motionless. And when she found it, it felt like ice.

He opened his mouth to speak. "Why?"

Words came hard. He seemed to wrench them out, with effort. "Why didn't you tell me?"

"I couldn't," she told him. Ineffectually she patted his hand. "His name was Richard Eustis. I hate him now. I—I left him—in Havana. Shall I tell you about it?"

She talked in small, jerky sentences. "I think I must have been crazy. It was all so sudden. The Captain—and those women. . . . Mab begged me not to. . . . And then, that very night. . . . Oh, it was awful. . . . Drink—drink—drink. . . . Five months now."

A dull red suffused the grayness of Craig's face and an obnoxious waiter, hovering near, stared in startled surprise.

"Oh, please," Sybil interrupted herself nervously. "Send that man away. He's listening to every word—I know he is."

Then Craig shifted his dreadful, penetrating gaze from her pale face and motioned abstractedly. "Bring Miss Thorne a breast of chicken, please, under glass, with mushrooms—and coffee."

She remonstrated, feebly, shaking her head. "Tea—tea—tea, I beg your pardon. . . . I—I have a little hysterical laugh on my lips. . . . Oh, Craig—Craig, you angel! Who else, in all the world would feed a bad girl chicken under glass?"

When it came, she toyed with it and tasted a bit when Craig begged her to—and poured large cups of fragrant coffee.

"Cream, my dear? Three lumps, isn't it?"

Like a bit of pleasant domesticity. Tragedy set with the social niceties. The waiter handed a steaming cup to Craig and discreetly withdrew.

"Oh, life," Sybil threw out her hands. "It's so funny. I tell you that I am married. That I am going to have a child. And then—pour you a cup of coffee. Quite as if it didn't matter. I—I break your heart—and then—I give you three lumps of sugar. Life's so—comical!"

She laughed nervously. "I suppose—if we weren't so polite—you wouldn't beat me soundly. . . . You don't hate me, Craig?"

He shook his head. "I—I think I'll go away next month." She pressed her fingers to her lips.

her mouth to quiet the trembling of her lips. "Until May."

"To him?"

"Oh, no, no! Craig, you don't understand. He doesn't know. I haven't seen him—since Havana. I don't want EVER to see him again."

"They were quite then."

"People will probably say dreadful things," she hazarded, at last. "I suppose so," he agreed.

He was thinking of their crowd. Dolly Weston and the Gransons, Valeria and her friends, and the rightous Mrs. West. And all the drinking, loose clique at the country club. People who commit only conventional sins are always intolerant of the unconventionalists.

"You poor little kid," he said, as he thought upon their wagging tongues.

"Oh, Craig, you're wonderful! You're so good you hurt. I—I almost rather you SLAPPED me!"

Sybil was trembling violently. "My teeth ate ch—"

"Nervous reaction," he told her, and bundled her into her coat. Then he called a cab, to take her home. He tucked her in warmly and gratefully she pillowed her head on his shoulder. His arm about her shoulders held her close.

The steps at her house were icy, and, lest she slip, he carried her to the door. There he shook hands, and stood for a minute, speechless, with bared head, and his face as wintry as the night.

"Aren't you going to kiss me?" she cried.

She raised her head, and he touched her lips lightly with his. "Good night, little girl!"

She let herself in quietly. The house was dark, and cold, and cheerless. She tiptoed upstairs, and down the hall to her room. Undressing in the dark, she crawled into bed, and curled up, to keep warm, like a child, her arms about her knees.

Then, in the cold and the dark, tears came—and all the bitter sorrow and regrets that come at midnight to tired women, alone with their thoughts.

"Why?"

Valeria suggested a trip to South Carolina. Sybil herself felt that it would be better to go away somewhere. But Mrs. Thorne, after consulting Mr. Crandon, felt that nothing would be gained by secrecy.

At three p. m. on January second Mrs. Thorne told her psychoanalyst all about it. She had gone to him directly from the store, where she had ordered, of a discreet clerk, 500 be-lated announcements of her daughter's marriage. . . . Mrs. Edward Thorne announced the marriage of her daughter, Sybil.

"Don't you think we had better date them July?" she had asked tearfully of Tad.

"But Mother!" expostulated Sybil. "I didn't know him in July—I hadn't even met him!"

Valerie shrugged her shoulders eloquently.

"I'll drive you down town, Mother," she offered. "And you can take a taxi to Mr. Crandon's."

The afternoon sun was slanting across the crimson rug in Mr. Crandon's consultation room. In the alcove beyond a maid was busying herself with tea cups and delft cracker jar. There were spicy carnations in a blue vase, and a crackling fire, and a kettle humming on a stove.

Mr. Crandon had learned that a confidential atmosphere is a decided aid to psycho. He drew a Boston rocker a little nearer the blaze, and helped Mrs. Thorne off with her moleskin wrap.

"I must have your help," Mrs. Thorne said, settling a turkey red cushion at her back. "It's about Sybil. She's going to have a baby."

Nothing ever surprised Mr. Crandon. He passed his finger tips together, and shifted his mild blue gaze to a no-nonsense contemplation of a hangnail.

"I want you to tell me what line to take with her," continued Mrs. Thorne.

And then, from the beginning, she told the story as best she could. She told about John Lawrence, and what a difficult girl Sybil was at 18. She reviewed a few earlier affairs, and told what she knew of some of later ones. She led tactfully up to Craig Newhall.

"I think," she hazarded, "that there was a sort of understanding between Craig and Sybil, but of course I can't be sure. You see, Sybil never tells her mother anything."

Mrs. Thorne pressed a black bordered handkerchief to her eyes. "Now when I was a girl—"

"Yes, yes," soothed Mr. Crandon, gently, and putting her hand, led her tactfully back to the subject in hand. "Mr. Newhall is something of an un-reverent young man."

"Why no, I don't know as you'll call him that," demurred Mrs. Thorne. "Maybe he's not just Sybil's type but—"

"As to that," interrupted Mr. Crandon. "has passion always been a strong factor in your daughter's life?"

Mrs. Thorne bristled a little. "Passion," she repeated distastefully. "Why, as to passion—" she floundered helplessly.

"I should think," continued Mr. Crandon without waiting for her to go on, "that your daughter's inhibitory and repressive powers—you see, my dear Mrs. Thorne—it is like this. . . . It would be better, perhaps, to consider her case from the beginning. Let us, for a moment, consider her infancy. Do you by any chance, remember Sybil's first lawless action?"

Mrs. Thorne pondered vaguely. "She always was a defiant child," she admitted. "I remember how she used to kick her little put out at night. And the way she threw her bottle out of her crib. But, tell me, Mr. Crandon, you don't think inhibitions—"

"I certainly do!" exclaimed Mr. Crandon.

MAIL EARLY, WRAP WELL, MILL URGES

Postmaster Issues Directions for Preparing Packages for Christmas

Kaukauna — Postmaster A. Mill has received a number of bulletins from Washington on Preparation for Christmas Mailings. Directions are listed on how to pack and wrap parcels and other information for mailing and addressing them.

There will be no mail delivery made on Christmas day the postmaster reports. The bulletin states that the postoffice will make every effort to handle the Christmas mails without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume this can be done only with the cooperation of the public. It urges everyone to mail early and insure early delivery.

No parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Heavy paper and twine should be used. Hats should be crated and marked "Fragile." Candles should be enclosed in strong outside boxes or containers. Sharp pointed articles must be guarded to prevent injury to the clerks handling the mail. Toys, glassware, and all articles easily broken should be well packed and marked "Fragile." Goods likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation will not be accepted for mailing. Mail such goods "Perishable." Use special delivery stamps to expedite delivery.

Addresses should be complete, with the house number and name of street, post-office box, or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed on the upper left corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card would also be written on a wrapper for use if tag is lost.

MUST BE PREPAID

Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail. Affix the required amount of postage in the upper right corner. Full information concerning postage rates can be obtained at the parcel-post or stamp window in the post office.

No parcel may be more than 34 inches in length and girth combined may be shipped. Patrons sending a quantity of Christmas cards should mail them about two or three weeks in advance, as there are millions mailed and cannot be delivered before Christmas. Parcels and envelopes may be addressed, "Please do not open unless Christmas."

During the holiday season the volume of mail increases 300 per cent. All cards, gifts and letters should be mailed early. If this is done they will be delivered before Christmas and will be a great aid to the postal service and employees and enable them to spend Christmas with their families.

The use of a "Special" Delivery stamp will assure delivery on Christmas day, if mailed at the post office. "Special" delivery service means the handling and transportation of parcels with the same expedition as first-class letter mail, as well as the immediate delivery at the office of address.

Written matter in the nature of personal correspondence can not be included in parcels. If communication is attached to the "parcel" it must have a first class rate stamp on it. For further information inquire at the postoffice.

130 TEACHERS AT CONFERENCE

Teaching Demonstrations Feature Annual Gathering of Instructions

Kaukauna—One hundred thirty rural and state graded school teachers from Outagamie county met at the Outagamie Rural Normal school Friday for its annual teaching demonstrations and group conferences.

The meeting was opened by a talk by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, on "Why Have Group Conferences?" Demonstrations classes followed the speech, led by Miss Luverne Ellis and Ruth McAfee, heads of the model department in the local school. The classes were on Reading in grades one and two, Arithmetic in grades three and four, History in five and six, and Geography in grade five.

Misses Loraine Fredrickson and Caryl Shoot talked on "Teaching Note Reading" to end the morning session. Dinner was had at 12 o'clock. Most of them ate at the Methodist church where a special dinner was served.

In the afternoon session the Institute was divided into seven sections for group conferences and discussions. The groups were led by W. P. Hagman, principal of the local school, Mr. Meating, Miss Nellie McDermott and A. L. Collar, county supervising teachers, Miss Ellis and Miss McAfee.

FIRE IS STARTED IN ISAAR DWELLING

Clothes Catch Fire Near Oil Stove—Oak Tree Ignited from Wires

Isaar — On Wednesday evening, after lighting an oil stove on the second floor of the W. B. Schroeder home; Miss Katherine Kenishnick, principal of the Isaar State Graded school, went to the lower floor of the house. Upon her return she noticed the clothing near the stove was burning, the wall paper was on fire, and the flames were spreading rapidly throughout the room. She immediately summoned for help. With help of a fire extinguisher and the flames were quenched.

On Friday evening, about midnight, Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder were awakened by Paul Sigl. He stated that a large oak tree standing near the Shady Elm Cheese factory was burning. ## STAGE And SCREEN

CORINNE GRIFFITH IN "OUTCAST"

Never has Corinne Griffith appeared to greater advantage than in the role of Miriam, a girl of easy virtue but with a heart of gold and a soul above her sordid surroundings, who not only rises to great heights herself, but also uplifts the man she loves in "Outcast", her second First National starring picture. Under her new contract with that organization, this widely heralded picture, directed by William A. Selzer, will be first shown in our city at the Elite Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The stellar role made famous on the stage by Elsie Ferguson over a decade ago when the celebrated Hubert Henry Davies played had its Broadway opening in New York and afterwards toured several important cities, calls for real dramatic delineation and gives Miss Griffith an opportunity for tremendous emotional depths contrasted with lighter moments, which bring "into play" her keen comedy sense. Hence "Outcast" is greatly strengthened in plot and made far more colorful and interesting in detail and background than the famous play from which it was adapted. "Identically, the locale was changed from London to present day San Francisco, which forms an extremely picturesque setting for several of the added big scenes. Edmund Lowe is leading man. Huntley Gordon, Louise Fazenda, James Ford and Kathryn Carver head the supporting cast.

"THE COSSACKS" ONE OF THE YEAR'S BEST

Men who braved death on many war fronts, a troop of hard-riding Cossack soldiers who fought for the Czar and with the White army, traveled from Europe to turn screen actors, when they rode with John Gilbert in "The Cossacks", Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular epic of Russia, coming Monday to Fischers Appleton theatre. These men stage the thrilling Cossack ride and sensational battle in the picture. The Cossacks, together with several hundred Russians recruited from Russian settlements in California, populated a complete Russian town built for the picture. They lived just as they did in Russia, with all their native customs, while the spectacle was being made. "The Cossacks" is one of the most elaborate screen plays of the season. With Gilbert in the leading role as a young Cossack soldier, and Renee Adoree as its heroine, cast that included Ernest Torrence, Mary Alden, Nell Neely, Dale Fuller, Josephine Boric, York Sherwood, Paul Hurst, Joseph Mari and others of note played with the throng of Russians, who regarded it as not merely a picture but as a labor of love for the glory of their native land. George Hill, director of "Tell It to the Marines," directed the huge feature. The Cossacks staged many riding thrills, such as pyramids of men on galloping horses, sensational races and battle scenes. A battle in a huge replica of a Turkish fort was one of the supreme thrills filmed. The Cossack troop was commanded by General Theodore Lodi, former commander of the Czar's bodyguard, and the settings designed by Alexander Toluboff, once head of the Czar's colonization forces, and builder of towns in Turkistan and Crimea. In the making of the picture all direction was relayed to the crowds in Russian, as few besides the principals spoke English.

Money For Nothing Is Funny Plot

MONEY FOR NOTHING, by P. G. Wodehouse. Doubleday, Doran and Company. P. G. Wodehouse might be called the Irvin S. Cobb of England. He is a funny man as well known in America as in his own country. Many American readers know him through his stories about Jeeves. That hero does not appear in the latest book, but other memorable characters furnish amusement of a light and frothy but very delightful nature. Hugo, specially, the young nephew of Mr. Lester Carmody, causes many a laugh by his efforts to get from his miserly old uncle the funds with which he and his old college chum, Ronnie Fish, may start a night club. Good old John, Hugo's slow, steady, reliable cousin, courts Patricia Wyvern, with unsolicited aid from Hugo which leads to most embarrassing and hilarious situations. Several "slick" Americans are first to the complications of the plot. The stories of Wodehouse are noted for their droll English conversation, especially their funny slang. This book is full of quaint and amusing dialogue.

BOSTON, by the Upton Sinclair. Albert and Charles Boni, Publishers.

An April 15, 1920, at three o'clock in the afternoon, the paymaster of the Slater and Kordill Shoe company in South Braintree, Massachusetts, started with the pay money from the office to the factory, a distance of two blocks. He carried two steel boxes containing about $18,000. He was accompanied by an armed guard. As the two men passed the Rice and Hutchins factory, without warning two foreign-looking men who had been loafing in front of the factory drew revolvers and opened fire on the two men, killing the paymaster instantly and mortally wounding his companion. The two bandits seized the boxes of money, leaped into an automobile which was promptly driven up to the curb for them and drove out of the little suburban city at high speed, firing promiscuously at all people who happened to be on the street near the scene of the crime. So rapid were the movements of the robbers, so unexpected their attack and escape that no one succeeded in getting a very good view of men or even of their car. Attempts were made at once to solve the crime and apprehend the murderers, but at first with no success.

The writer of this review happened to visit South Braintree a few weeks after the crime. He was shown the scene of it and the hold-up described. The little town was still buzzing with excitement over it. Little did the reviewer, however, or those who were his guides at the scene of the murders dream that this was destined to become known as one of the most famous crimes of modern times, one of the most famous perhaps of all times. For this is the crime which Sacco and Vanzetti were accused of committing and for which, after seven years of legal battle, they were executed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. These two men happened not only to be an Italian shoemaker and an Italian fish-peddler; they were avowed radicals as well. And when they were accused of the South Braintree attack, at once the cry went up around the world that they were being "railroaded" to the electric

This Novel Is Pleasing And Serene

ABBE PIERRE'S PEOPLE, by William Hudson. D. Appleton and Company.

Abbe Pierre, who has taught philosophy many years in Paris, retires to his native village in Gascony in southern France and spends his remaining years ministering to the quaint people there. He gives to the story its unity. There is no plot. The village and its people are the main thing. Life is presented in twenty sketches of great variety, ranging from "Sidoine's Bar," the story of one of Abbe Pierre's parishioners who invokes the aid of sorcery in the cure of an encephalitis, to "An Incident of the Arena," a realistic description of the "course landaise," a modified form of bull-fighting, in which wild cattle, turned loose into the arena, pursue the nimble "carrueurs" whose only defense consists of their ability to dodge the infuriated beasts. The author, Mr. Hudson, is an American university professor of philosophy, whose avocation is novel-writing. His "Abbe Pierre's People" is a very pleasing book, with the same serenity, good-humor, and calm wisdom which made his previous novel "Abbe Pierre" so widely popular a few years ago.

chair not because they were guilty of murder but because they were guilty of radicalism. No trial in modern times has so profoundly stirred people in all parts of the civilized world. Two days before their execution there was a general strike in Argentina, great meetings of protest in Berlin, mobs in London and similar demonstrations in Geneva, Russia, Paris and elsewhere. Whether Judge Thayer and his jury who tried the case and condemned the men erred in their findings, whether the commission headed by President Lowell of Harvard, which reviewed the case was blinded by prejudice, as some claim, whether the governor of Massachusetts, who refused, after investigating the case, to interfere with the wheels of justice, made a mistake in so refusing, will probably never definitely or clearly be known.

Not only the radicals, but also many intelligent and thoughtful people who are not radicals, have come to believe that in the Sacco-Vanzetti case there was a serious miscarriage of justice. On the other hand, it must be remembered that many equally intelligent, thoughtful and just people are thoroughly convinced that Sacco and Vanzetti killed the paymaster and his guard at South Braintree.

Upton Sinclair, known to all American readers by his "The Jungle" as well as other social novels, has written a remarkable two-volume novel about the Sacco-Vanzetti case in which he has attempted to set it before his readers with a wealth of historically accurate details that will enable any one who wishes to do so to arrive at his own conclusions as to whether these two Italian radicals were wrongly done to death. Any one familiar with Mr. Sinclair's strong prejudices will not be surprised to find his presentation of his material somewhat affected by those prejudices. However, he gives every evidence of having attempted to present his facts with sincerity and faithfulness.

The story of the crime and trial and of the desperate efforts to save the condemned men is told with great skill. It is as enthralling as one of the current crime stories that are so popular at the present time, and has added advantage of being true. Two fictitious characters—a grandmother and her granddaughter, both radicals—contribute to the interest. Mr. Sinclair's exposure of what he considers to be decadent Boston society will entertain even when it may not convince. "Boston" is a novel that will be the subject of much controversy this winter.

REDECORATION WORK IN HOTEL ADVANCING

Work is advancing rapidly on the redecoration of Hotel Appleton. The entire interior is being repainted and redecorated and several new doorways are being installed. A door was installed on the north side and entrance can now be made from W. Washington-st. It is expected the work will be finished within the next two weeks.

Kaw Juniors Invade Local Grounds Sunday Afternoon

OFFICIALS MOVE LAST WEEK'S GAME TO APPLETON LOT

Fracas Is Last of 1928 Catholic League Football Schedule

What is probably the last game of the 1928 season for St. Joseph parochial junior high school gridirers will be played on Wilson high grounds here Sunday afternoon, according to announcement. St. Mary Junior high of Kaukauna will furnish opposition.

The game is the one scheduled for last week at Kaukauna and called off because of the wet, cold weather. The game was to have been played in the Kaw park which always becomes a pond after a rainstorm and might have been played there had not Kaukauna officials told their youngsters the day's work was off. Appleton had an extra game scheduled for Green Bay Sunday but because the Kaw game is a league battle the Bays permitted cancellation.

Whether any more games will be played in the loop this fall depends on the weather. Another week of two of warm weather might prompt school officials here to try a game Thanksgiving day and next Sunday. The weather men's reluctance to warm things up and the lateness of the season makes the games' problematical.

St. Joseph gridirers are going to win the final game, if they have anything to say and as proof have been working hard all week, slush and water to the contrary. They have polished up their attack by mixing in a few new plays and perfecting the old ones. A few pass formations were mastered to aid in getting the extra yards which so far has stopped the Redmen when near the goal line.

Connie Frank probably will bear the burden of ball totting again and will be assisted by Beck, fullback. Grieshaber, Gehrman and Jacobs will be the other backfield men for Coach Mel Heinritz.

In the line Hekker will probably play right end, Max Schmedemeyer, tackle and Ross, guard. Loessel and Liechten will perform at center, Webber or Vander Linden, right guard, O'Dell, Klein or Rossmessel, right tackle and Schommer or Heidebrand, right end.

The St. Joseph lineup: Hekker and Steidl, left ends; Schmedemeyer, left tackle; J. Rossmessel and Mas-sonet, left guard; Loessel and Liechten, center; Webber or Vander Linden, right guard; C. Rossmessel and O'Dell, right tackle; Schommer and Heidebrand, right ends; Grieshaber, quarterback; Frank, left half-back; "back; Jacobs, right half-back. Other backfield men who will see action are Keller, Ruppel, Gehrman.

HEAVIES FIGHT ON IN MILWAUKEE BOUT

Former Oshkosh Normal Grid Star Gets Chance With Sig Zwick

Milwaukee.—Although Tom Andrews has a splendid windup attraction for his show of Tuesday, Nov. 27 in King Tut and Eddie Anderson, plenty of gore and action is promised in the preliminary bouts which will be staged in addition to the feature event, and all of them fairly sizable.—at least on paper. Because of the public interest in the big fellows, Andrews has arranged three middleweight and one heavyweight battle as part of his program. Sig Zwick, Milwaukee's hard hitting 180 pounder will appear in the heavyweight battle against Rube Schipper, former Oshkosh Normal football star. Schipper has dreams of going right to the top in the heavy division, and a big gang of his Oshkosh friends will come here to see his battle.

The semi will feature Al Van Ryan, the St. Paul star and Mickey O'Neill, the Marquette University, who plans to become a newspaperman when he quits the ring.

James White has a place on the card as Farmer Zimmerman. The farmer has defeated some of the best middleweights in northern Illinois and southwestern Wisconsin and Andrews thinks he is ripe for a showing in the big Auditorium. His opponent will be Ted Algiers. Another bout that should bring out plenty of robust socking is the Tate Littman-Martin Frank scrap at 160 pounds. Both of these boys are willing scrappers, both carrying a hearty wallop.

Sig. Nowak and Joe Dischow will meet in another preliminary. Reservations for tickets can be made by mailing checks direct to the club office, 500 Cedar St., Milwaukee, Wis.

MILWAUKEE BEATS FRENCH LIGHTWEIGHT

Green Bay.—Irvin Bernat of Milwaukee defeated Jimmy Borge of France in a 10 rounds bout here Friday night. They fought at 125 pounds.

Jack Chief, Elkhardt, knocked out Joe Corrado, Milwaukee, in the first round of their fight. They weighed in at 165. Max Stewart, Milwaukee, shaded Johnny Busch, Sheboygan, in the 150 pounds class. Jack Hanley, Green Bay, shaded Franklin Check in a four round bout at 132 pounds.

Chicago.—Lack of public interest in the 10-round fight between Billy Light, St. Paul, welterweight, and Gorilla Jones, Negro, Akorn, O. scheduled for the coliseum last night was a factor in calling off the fight. Promoter Jim Mullen said.

A Governor's Son

Officials at Groton school say that Elliott Roosevelt won his job at guard on the football team because he was a fighter. That's not surprising in the least when it is known that he is a son of Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor-elect of New York and himself a fighter in the political world. Young Roosevelt is one of the stars of the Groton team.

PACKERS TO PLAY POTTSVILLE SUNDAY

Have Signed Bo Molenda to Play Fullback Rest of Season

Atlantic City N. J.—The Packers sunning horseshoe has followed the club into Atlantic City and ideal football weather has been on tap for each practice session.

The team works out every morning before an admiring throng of spectators and a handful of the Blue Tornadoes (the Atlantic City pro team). Bader field is about a mile from the hotel and the bus ride wakes the boys up just enough so that when it comes time to don the "monkey suits" everybody is bubbling with pep and vigor.

"Eddie" Kotla's leg injury is still causing him considerable trouble but he is spending most of his time giving the knee hot water treatments and the bruised spot is showing some improvement. Tom Nash is just about out of the hospital list and has seen some service in the signal drill. The rest of the boys are "rarin' to go" and it begins to look as if Pottsville is going to have its hands full Sunday.

Capt. Lambson is working his squad at top speed to guard against any letdown following the skirmish with the Giants. The Packer leader figures that if his club can leap the Pottsville hurdle this week-end Green Bay will have something to say about the National league championship. Following the Pottsville game, the Bays are booked with Philadelphia, Providence and the Chicago Bears, all tough nuts to crack, but everyone of them can be figured as key games and this means that there will be an extraordinary amount of fight in evidence.

The Packers squad will be guest of the Frankford Athletic association in Philadelphia. Saturday for the Yellow Jackets-Chicago Cardinals game. A block of seats have been set aside for the Bays and the team is being played up as an added attraction. One of the Philadelphia papers carried the story that the Green Bay Packers would be on the hand to see the Jackets meet the Cardinals and added that evidently wholesale scouting was within the laws of the dollar and cents gridirers.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Packer football stock climbed a notch or two here Thursday when Bo Molenda, one of the best fullbacks in the National Football league, joined the Big Bay Blues. The Packers management put over a deal for the ace backfielder with Charlie Fyle of the New York Yankees. When in college Molenda was a star at Michigan.

Fights Last Night

New York.—Harry Ebbets, Freeport, N. Y., won over N. O. Phil Kaplan, New York, foul (4). Arthur De Kuhl, Italy, stopped Johnnie Wid, Sweden (1). Max Schmelling, Germany, knocked out Joe Monte, Boston (8).

Berlin.—Carl Carter, United States, drew (10). Halifax, N. S.—Jack Humbeck, Belgium and Roy Mitchell, Halifax, drew (10).

San Francisco.—Fidel La Barba, retired flyweight champion, knocked out Ray Ravini, San Francisco (8).

Green Bay.—Irvin Bernat defeated Johnny Borge, France (10).

EYES OF FOOTBALL WORLD FOCUSED ON GOPHERS, BADGERS

Minnesota Carries Championship Hopes and Fears of Four Teams

Chicago.—(P)—Minnesota's "Thundering Horde," carried the championship hopes and fears of four teams as the Big Ten football campaign ended on four widely separated fronts Saturday.

Three of the teams, Illinois, Ohio State and Iowa, built their championship hopes on the ability of Minnesota to stop Wisconsin at Madison and their own abilities to win, while the Badgers hoped to halt Minnesota and thereby annex their first Big Ten football crown since 1912.

With Ohio State invading Illinois, Minnesota closing with Wisconsin and Iowa fighting against Michigan at Ann Arbor, a day's crowd of 225,000 or more, the biggest in the Big Ten's history, was expected to see the curtain fall. Two other contests, Dartmouth at Northwestern and Indiana at Purdue helped to swell the attendance mark.

Every contest, except that between Iowa and Michigan in which the Hawkeyes were big favorites, was regarded as a toss-up.

A battle of passes was promised at Evanston where Dartmouth sent its rejuvenated team to meet Northwestern in the only intersectional combat of the Western conference card. Both teams have exhibited flashes of power despite poor seasons.

The "old oaken bucket" was the tocsin of battle between Indiana and Purdue and Lafayette was football mad. The two have been rivals almost since football began.

GERMAN FIGHTER KNOCKS OUT MONTE

Widd, Swedish Glove Representative, Takes Count from Italian

New York.—(P)—The Ratio between the perpendicular and horizontal foreign heavyweights in this country remains the same as the result of the American debuts of the two latest importations. Max Schmelling of Germany something of a sensation in Madison Square Garden last night by not only remaining on his feet through eight furious rounds of battling against Joe Monte of Boston but by coming out with a knockout victory.

Johnnie Widd of Sweden, however, preserved the balance by assuming the horizontal position after only two and a half minutes of wild punching with Arthur De Kuh of Italy.

Schmelling made a hit with the Garden fans by showing unusual speed for a 185 pounder, coupled with a lot of boxing ability and a good punch. Monte seldom could land a solid blow while the German hit hard and often enough to send him down for a count of nine in the fifth before knocking him out in the eighth.

Widd came out of his corner against the huge Italian flailing both fists like a frightened small boy tackling a much larger opponent and he was still swinging when the referee helped him back without a count after the second knock-down.

Four Newcomers Revive Interest In Boxing Game

Tuffy Griffiths, 21, Seems to Be Best Battler in Lot

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
OUR names have been given a place of prominence in recent months on the list of the cauliflower market. The list is a roll of fighters that the managers of ambitious or conservative young men of the industry are warned to stay away from.

It has been some time since the list included fighters of such promise in four important divisions as Tuffy Griffiths, light heavyweight; Rene De Vos, middleweight; Jackie Fields, welterweight; and Kid Chocolate, featherweight. And they seem to be the answer to the prayer of the promoter for new faces and new color to stimulate a near dead business.

Tuffy Griffiths, of the four mentioned, seems to have the most promise from a money angle and that is the main angle in the racket. He is not only the outstanding light heavyweight of the country but he may row into the ranking contender for the heavyweight championship.

Griffiths is a 21-year-old battler from St. Louis, Mo., and before he had the name Tuffy hung on him he had to bludge the monster of Gerald Ambrose Griffiths. His publicity man would have you believe that it was the taunts directed at him because of a sissy name that started him to fight with the juveniles at home and it may be so, although it is an old story.

But it is a matter of official record, regardless of the motives that inspired of provoked him to it, that Gerald Griffiths started fighting when he was 16 and that at the end of five years of campaigning he owned a record of 52 consecutive victories. It is true that his record includes almost as many Whosises and Whatifs as Young Stribling's but the last four victims of his sock caused him to be added hastily and very legibly to the list of don'ts. Griffiths caused real attention first when he knocked over Mike McFigue. There may come a time when the association of those who knocked off McFigue will have the largest membership in the racket but there aren't many doing it right now.

The Tuffy then took Tony Marullo, Jimmy Maho and Joe Anderson. Marullo is recognized as one of the toughest men in the game. Mahoney stopped Walcott Langford twice, once by a knockout. Joe Sekyra and gave George Courtney all he wanted and Anderson was one of the coming fighters in the class.

IT WAS A SUCKER TRICK

The real tip-off on Griffiths came when Earl Jimmy Dougherty, Anderson's manager and one of the smartest men in the business, said after his boy had been mugged off—"That Griffiths is a helluva fighter. What a sucker I was feeding my boy to him!"

But the word had gone out before Dougherty broke his world's record by admitting that some other fellow's fighter was a good one.

Tom McAdelle, Rickard's matchmaker, signed Griffiths for a show in the Garden and had to ask to be released from the contract because he couldn't get anybody to take him.

Jimmy Slatery laughed off the offer with the joke that he "didn't know the young man." Jack Delaney said he had a social date for the night mentioned and that he would get one for any other night. All the good ones had excuses and the punks could afford to be more honest and admit that they were afraid of him.

Finally Jimmy Braddock, a nice young boy from Jersey who hadn't

ENTRIES TO CLOSE ON JAN. 10; HAVE FIVE WEEKEND DATES

Prize List Conservatively Estimated at More Than $20,000

"On to Sheboygan." Bill Fenske, secretary of the Wisconsin Bowling association, with this as his slogan, has started his big publicity program for the twenty-seventh annual tournament, which is to be held at the Lake Shore city from Jan. 22 to Feb. 26.

"Reservations are beginning to appear on our books," says a general notice sent to bowlers throughout the state. "Without expressing an opinion that is too optimistic we will say that the twenty-seventh annual tournament in Sheboygan is to be the greatest tournament ever conducted in our splendid commonwealth."

"Entries close Jan. 10," goes on the letter. "Five week-end dates for all visiting bowlers. A splendid card."

"The tournament will be conducted in the spacious Eagles Club at Sheboygan, a new building with twelve of the very best continuous tournament alleys. Everybody knows the hospitality of the Eagles. Every part of their club will be open to the visiting bowlers, and in a cordial manner they will be welcomed by the people of Sheboygan."

"Sheboygan is a city of energetic people, and a real hot-bed of bowling enthusiasm just at the present time. The location of Sheboygan is one of the very best to draw a record entry from all Lake Shore cities, as well as from the Fox River valley, and in a direct line eastward of the great bowling cities in central Wisconsin."

"We can present to you nothing better than this for your consideration. Give it your thought, and you will know that we are right."

"The bowlers have made the Wisconsin state tournaments successful, so it is to you we appeal. We ask no one else. You come from the royal and loyal breed of good sportsmen, and you will make this tournament just as eminently successful as you have all Wisconsin State Bowling Tournaments in the past several years."

"Write us now for reservations. Take your choice from the enclosed calendar slip, and be sure to write soon as first-come-first-served is the steadfast motto and slogan of the Wisconsin state bowling officials. "Thanking you for your interest, support and soliciting your correspondence on anything that permits to bowling, believe us to be."

"Yours very sincerely," "W.M. F. FENSKE."

Mr. Fenske estimates that the prize total for the coming tournament here will total $20,000, and he notes that this is a "conservative estimate"—in other words, there is every probability that it will be larger.

Entry blanks have been sent out to all bowling alleys listed in Wisconsin.

RIPON HAS HEAVY GAGING SCHEDULE

Will Bring Center College Five to Crimson Gym on Dec. 27

Ripon.—(P)—With a week of practice already tucked away, the Ripon college basketball squad is looking forward to its first encounter of a heavy schedule when it meets the Kentucky quint from Center college on Dec. 27. Thirteen games are on the Ripon basketball calendar, six at home and seven in foreign cities.

The contest with the Kentucky Colonels is the lone nonconference tilt for the Redmen, who have on their schedule both Mid-West and Little Four conference tilts. One home game with Lake Forest may be added to complete the season's schedule while the Forest may be added to complete the season's schedule while the Forest may be added to complete the season's schedule.

With King Football now on the way to discard, many members of the gridiron squad have reported to Coach Russell Rippe for workouts on the hardwood floor. Five lettermen of last year's basketball team will be in the fold this season. They are Capt. Harold Williams, guard; "Red" Martin, Cliff Halverson, Casper Jaspers, forward; and "Slim" Breitrick, center. Four of the veterans have played together during the past two seasons and have 30 games to their credit. Halverson, captain of the 1927-28 team and Martin both won berths on the all-state college quint last year.

The Ripon Redmen will be bolstered by the return of Nate Cohen and Arno Olson, both of who saw service last year and Martin. Martin, Mangen, Reinold and Hanks, the latter four of last year's freshman team.

FORMER LOCAL BOWLER TOPPLING SUPERIOR PINS

Norman Brauer, who formerly toppled pins on local bowling alleys as a member of the Retson and James team, has taken his mineralite to Superior and continues to set a pace for other keggers. In returns from matches rolled a few days ago Brauer hit a 675 for the three games, 225, 228 and 224. He has an average of 157 pins. Brauer now is a member of the Ross Electric company team, Superior.

Badgers Keyed Up As Big Ten Title Looms

Dopesters Pick Cardinals to Be Upset in This Week's Games

Madison.—(P)—The Big Ten's battle of "ifs" for the conference championship centered around Saturday's game between the rugged Minnesota eleven and Wisconsin's undefeated Badgers.

Wisconsin, in a desperate effort to gain its first big ten title since 1912, was keyed to the limit to beat the "Thundering Horde" of Minnesotans.

Minnesota, with no championship hopes of its own, was the lone star of encouragement to Iowa, Illinois and Iowa, Illinois and Ohio, because only in case of a Minnesota victory could any of them hope to win or share the championship spoils.

Dopesters, remembering the season filled with upsets, looked for Wisconsin's defeat, but Wisconsin partisans would concede, nothing, although admitting that any Minnesota-Wisconsin game was bound to be a "natural."

Wisconsin's running offensive and passes were stacked against Minnesota's line-charging tactics in pre-game forecasts, but both teams were ready for surprise attacks.

DARTMOUTH AT EVANSTON

Evanston, Ill.—(P)—Two exponents of the forward pass, Dartmouth of the east and Northwestern of the middle west, were set for a game of ultra-modern football Saturday before 50,000 spectators, the largest crowd ever to pack Dyche Stadium.

All the tricks of modern gridiron strategy were expected to be unloosed by the fleet teams.

35,000 AT CHAMPAIGN
Champaign, Ill.—(P)—Two old rivals of the gridiron, Ohio State and Illinois, renew their annual feud Saturday and to the winner may go the championship of the Big Ten.

The championship edge all depended on a Minnesota triumph over Wisconsin's undefeated team, but from the interest exhibited in the Illinois-Buckeye combat, it appeared as if the fans took a Minnesota triumph for granted. Upwards of 35,000 were expected to watch the game.

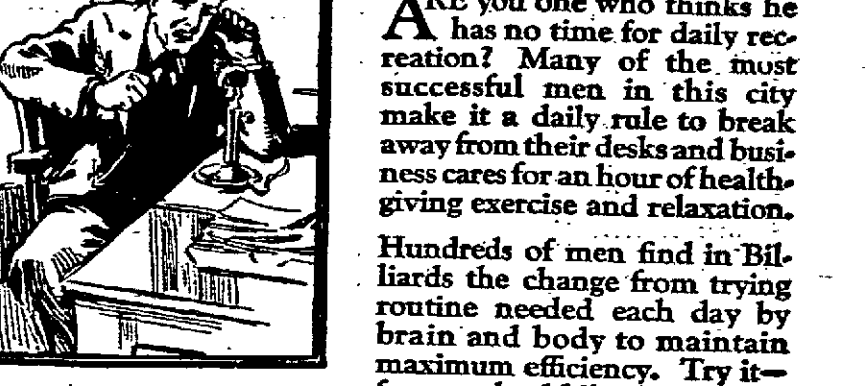

Lincoln, Neb.—(P)—Governor McMillen of Nebraska sent a telegram to Coach Bear of the Nebraska Cornhuskers, at West Point where the Huskers tackle the Army Saturday. In it he said "I hope that the final score will indicate that the Cornhuskers have no superior in 1928."

LUTHERAN AID BOWLERS GET 600 PIN GAMES

Two members of the Luckies team at Lutheran Aid alleys toppled over 600 pins in one of their regular weekly matches. They are El Horn who hit 608 and E. Witzke who topped 610 maples. Horn had games of 159, 225 and 234 while Witzke's total came from 133, 228 and 199.

MARQUETTE CAGERS TO PLAY U. OF IOWA

Will Meet Lawrence Basketball Team at Appleton on Jan. 28

Marquette — Sam Barry's University of Iowa Hawkeyes are the only Western conference team on the 1928-29 Marquette basketball schedule, but Athletic Director Conrad M. Jennings nevertheless has arranged an attractive card for the Hilltop cagers. Eight games will be played in Milwaukee and seven on the road.

Home and home games with such teams as Notre Dame, Michigan State, Drake and Creighton are included on the schedule. The Marquette squad will get away to a late start in its training work since three-fourths of the basketball candidates are now members of the Hilltop football squad. Frank J. Murray is coach of both teams.

Walter (Swede) Gebert, Marquette's great all-around athlete, is captain-elect of the basketball team and is now captain of the football eleven. He is the first athlete in local history to captain two varsity teams in the same school year. The schedule:

Dec. 21—Iowa at Moline, Ill.
Jan. 5—Beloit in Milwaukee.
Jan. 7—Lawrence in Milwaukee.
Jan. 12—Michigan State at East Lansing, Mich.
Jan. 19—Creighton in Milwaukee.
Jan. 28—Lawrence at Appleton, Wis.
Feb. 2—Drake in Milwaukee.
Feb. 5—Notre Dame in Milwaukee.
Feb. 9—Grinnell at Grinnell, Ia.

RICKARD BOOKS THREE MATCHES FOR SHARKEY

New York—(AP)—Jack Sharkey has signed for three fights under the promotion of Tex Rickard during the winter season.

The Boston heavyweight's opponents have not yet been selected but Rickard said he would choose them from among Tom Heeney, Johnny Risko, Paulino Uzcudun, Knute Hanson and Young Stribling. Rickard plans to stage the Sharkey battles a month apart, starting in January.

It is understood that Rickard also has Sharkey under contract to meet the champion of the world, provided he disposes of his first three opponents and also contingent upon Dempsey attempting another comeback.

MUST LIKE OHIO ELEPHENS
Officials at Washington and Jefferson, who already have arranged to play Wittenberg in 1929, hope to get two other Ohio teams on their 1929 menu.

Feb. 11—Grinnell in Milwaukee (ten).
Feb. 18—St. Louis university in Milwaukee (ten).
Feb. 23—Creighton at Omaha, Neb.
Feb. 25—Drake at Des Moines, Ia.
Mar. 2—Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.
Mar. 4—Michigan State in Milwaukee.

Around The Sport World

HAIL, THE NEW CHAMPS!
THE disturbed feeling that even the brave American league pitchers have had for two seasons when they had to get Combs, Lazzeri, Ruth, Gehrig and Meusel out may be felt in the other league next season when the opposing pitchers are working on the Chicago Cubs.

English, Beck, Cuyler, Hornsby, Wilson, Stephenson, Hartnett and Grimm offer a succession of batsmen that requires beating down with very little chances for a letup.

But it is not only in great batting power that the Cubs have their hope for a very important challenge in the next pennant race.

It will be a well balanced club with a good outfield, a tight infield, a great catcher and a staff of pitchers that was the best in the league at the close of the 1928 race.

There are chances that Cuyler will be a better outfielder through the season that he was last year, and that Charley Root will win many more ball games than he did.

which the Notre Dame boys stopped the Ivy.

George Leppic, one of the guards, it seems, was assigned to the particular duty of stopping Cagle. He had no other mission on the defense than to keep after the star Army back, and it was his job if he didn't deliver.

Leppic got the same kind of an unhappy assignment last year when he was ordered by Rockne to stop Herb Joesting, the crashing Minnesota fullback. And he did stop him.

ANOTHER MILLIONAIRE
The Babe returned from his barn storming tour and paid a call on his bankers in New York. It was not purely a social call, as he tossed $10,000 on the desk and told the bankers to add it to his trust fund. With the addition of that sum the trust fund for the rainy day reached $130,000, and he can't touch a cent of the principal.

This $130,000 represents the savings from the Babe's revenue out of side of baseball. He doesn't sign all these testimonials and write all these articles for nothing, and the $130,000 side money he has earned have been put away only in the last three years.

HERE'S A NEW ONE; IT'S REALLY GOOD

Cleveland—One of football's odd-est plays was pulled in a game between Oberlin College and West Reserve Union here recently.

Butzberger, Oberlin half-back, got loose on an end run and sprinted 89 yards for a touchdown—or, rather, almost for a touchdown. Far ahead of his pursuers, Butzberger got confused as he crossed the Western Reserve line and mistook it for the goal line. He slowed to a stop, wheeled about, and downed the ball—just about six inches in front of the goal line.

The crowd of a snarl from the stands aroused him after a few seconds, and he picked up the ball to dive over the line. But the Western Reserve backs had caught up with him, and they fell on him, five or six strong, before he could get the ball across.

Chester managed to ram the ball over on the next play, saving Butzberger from being the goat of the game. But, even so, his stunt of shaking off all tacklers and making an uninterrupted run of 60 yards, only to deprive himself of a touchdown by downing the ball on the wrong side of the goal line, is probably unique in the annals of football.

If it isn't, it ought to be, anyhow.

YANKS AND A'S POOR HITTERS IN PINCHES

New York—Strange as it may seem, batters of the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Athletics were the worst in the American league when sent up to the plate as pinch hitters this summer.

The statistics show that the Athletics were seventh in pinch batting and the Yankees eighth.

The A's obtained only 25 hits by pinch hitters in 120 times at bat, while the Yankees benefited by safe blows only 16 times in 105 efforts.

The White Sox were the best pinch batters. Their average shows 23 safe blows in 93 attempts.

Lawrence, Kan.—(AP) Completely outclassing their opponents, the Haskell Indians defeated Nebraska Wesleyan 60 to 0 here Friday. The Nebraskans made only one first down while the Indians resorted to the aerial route and line plunges with equal advantage.

"Famous First Ladies"

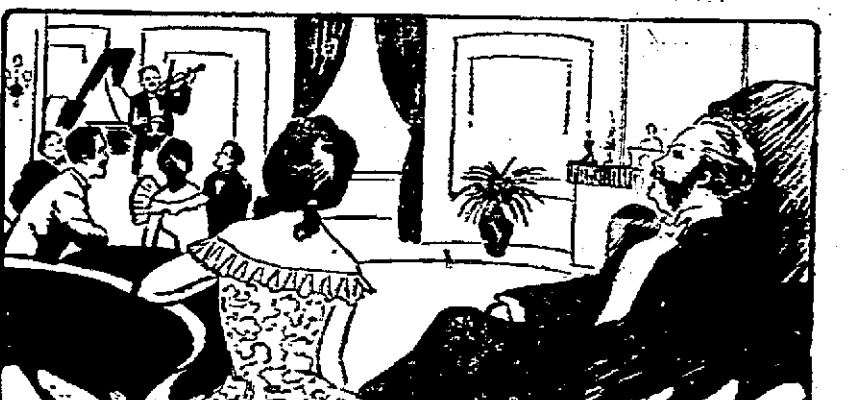

President Arthur, called by some biographers "the handsomest president," was a widower. The president's daughter, Nellie, was too young to preside at official occasions so the honor often fell to Mrs. McElroy, his sister. A question of precedence arose when the president gallantly invited forty women to grace his reception line on one occasion. 11-7

There was considerable jealousy as to who should take the coveted position on the president's right.

Arthur settled the question himself in favor of the wife of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Mrs. Carlisle. 11-7

President Arthur was fond of music and programs at the White House were often arranged by Mrs. McElroy. Once Madame Adelina Patti and her company gave a program there. The Fish Jubilee troupe of celebrated colored singers also sang for him. During his regime the entertainments were many and lavish.

CLINTONVILLE ALL SET FOR RABBIT SHOW

Lions Complete All Arrangements for Poultry and Rabbit Exhibits

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—All plans for the poultry and rabbit show to be held at the Clintonville armory on Monday and Tuesday have been completed by the Clintonville Lions club, sponsors of the show. Coops have been set up in the basement where the bird and rabbit exhibits will be held.

Entry books were mailed out last week and numerous requests for entry books from neighboring towns indicate a big interest in the coming show. Much more interest is evident in the rabbit show than was expected and this department promised to be a big feature of the show this year.

Ninety per cent of the entry fee money is to be returned to the exhibitors as prizes on the basis of 40 per cent for first prize, 30 per cent for second place and 20 per cent for third prize. In addition to this there is a total of $66 in cash prize money offered for sweepstakes, $6 in cash on the egg exhibit and a beautiful silver cup. Money for the prizes has been furnished by the First National, Clintonville State and Dairyman's State banks of this city, and the silver loving cup by the Clintonville Tribune. The loving cup is offered for the best pen of five chickens in the show and will become the permanent property of the person, winning it three times, not necessarily in succession.

Following is the program for the show:

Monday—Entry day, exhibits will not be open for inspection.

Tuesday, 8:30—All entries closed, judges will judge rabbits and poultry. None but exhibitors admitted.

12:30, show opened to public.

1:30, poultry dressing demonstration by Ernest G. Hansen, Fort Atkinson, world's champion poultry dresser.

2:30, Handling and care of Baby Chicks, talk by Mr. Corey, hatchery expert with 24 years of experience. Questions may be asked about chicks at this time.

3:30, Care of Farm Flocks, talk by J. B. Haase, poultry department, University of Wisconsin. Questions may be asked about this also.

4, hand concert by Clintonville high school band.

Tuesday—Evening, 7:45, music by Emmanuel Community orchestra.

8, poultry dressing demonstration by Mr. Haase.

8:30, poultry frolic, music by Emmanuel Community orchestra.

9:30, Old time dance, music by Al Gruenstern and his orchestra, Marion.

Blue ribbons will be given for first prize, red ribbons for second and yellow ribbons for third prize.

CONFERENCE SUNDAY

A young people's conference, under the auspices of the Waupaca County Christian Education association, will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church at Manawa, Sunday. The principal speaker will be Dr. W. A. Gifford, president of Carroll College. His subject will be, "A Youth of Seventeen Who Thinks." Among other features at this conference there will be heard echoes from the State Young People's conference, recently held at Waukesha, by county delegates.

Indications look favorable for a fine city basketball team in Clintonville this year. The movement has received the endorsement of the Wisconsin Power and Light Co. and District Manager H. E. Brooks, and will be sponsored by the company here. Bud O'Connor is in charge of the organization work. Numerous requests have already been received for games, but none have been scheduled to date. It is probable, however, that the opening game will be played with Tigerton shortly after Thanksgiving.

The usual Sunday evening union service will be held at the Methodist church Sunday. The Rev. Ben Flopper, Shawano, former Clintonville young man, will be the speaker of the evening.

Dr. W. H. Finney and Judd Waite returned Thursday from a week's hunting trip on the Canadian border at Dr. Finney's hunting lodge. Each shot a deer.

They made a 600 mile drive, their destination being about 23 miles from International Falls and an equal distance from Fort Francis. The lake upon which Dr. Finney and Mr. Waite camped was one of a chain said to have a continuous portage of 167 miles. Twice during their return trip they were delayed by the game wardens, but had no difficulty in proving the legality of their right to the deer in their possession.

Mrs. Clarence Barker entertained a few friends at her home Wednesday evening. Those present were: Margaret Quall, Adeline Kratzke, DeVera Bohman, Beatrice and Marcelle Bestha, Mary Tandy and Florence Arnolds.

Mr. and Mrs. John Elsbury and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schauder entertained a number of friends at a joint wedding anniversary celebration at the home of the latter on Thursday evening. The evening was spent in playing cards after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Joseph Stein is confined to her home by illness.

Theodore Kuhn returned to this city on Thursday after transacting business for the past week at Brandon in the interest of the Atlas Engineering company.

Conrad Boehler, Menominee, Mich., has returned to his home in that city.

NEW LONDON SOCIETY

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Mrs. Elmer Wittlinger entertained the members of the birthday five hundred club at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Page Dexter was awarded the prize for high score in cards and Mrs. Edward Roloff received consolation prize. Mrs. Martin Abraham will be hostess to the club at the next meeting.

About 150 people were served at the annual chicken pie supper served by the members of the Dorcas society of the Methodist church Thursday. Mrs. Edward Syeingraber, president of the society, acted as general chairman of the affair. Proceeds will be added to the general church improvement fund.

A joint meeting of the American Legion and the auxiliary unit was held at legion hall Thursday evening, the unit hostess. Following a short business session of both organizations, the evening was devoted to cards and a pie social. Schafkopf, bridge and five hundred were played, prizes being awarded as follows: schafkopf—first, Arthur Lash; consolation, Gus Everest; bridge—first prize, Mrs. Oscar Nemschoff; consolation, Mrs. Chowder; five hundred—first prize, Mrs. Leonard Mandke; consolation, Mrs. Anna Graham. At the pie social held at the conclusion of the evening $15.00 was cleared. Members of the Auxiliary November social group were in charge of the social group.

Mrs. Edward Jacoditsch was an Appleton visitor on Friday.

August Hoffman of this city is visiting friends and relatives at Pella, Shawano and Marian.

DISCUSS INSURANCE FOR CITY LIBRARY

Board Decides That Present Amount Is Not Adequate Coverage

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Discussion of a correct basis for tornado and fire insurance occupied the New London Public Library board at its regular meeting on Thursday evening. Members of the board feeling that the present insurance was not sufficient to cover the entire contents of the library and museum, suggested some manner of adjustment which would protect the library building from fire and tornado loss. The board itself is now carrying 10 per cent of the risk.

The regular attention to routine business and payment of bills brought the meeting to a close.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS CONDUCTS INITIATION

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The regular business meeting of the Woman's Relief corps was held on Friday afternoon at the Modern Woodmen's hall. A business session was followed by the initiation of Mrs. Laura Jost. The application of Mrs. Lola Nauth of Kiel, was presented for membership and accepted. Mrs. Nauth, who has many friends here, is desirous of joining the local order because there is no chapter of the organization in her home city. The November committee of hostesses served the refreshments. Those of the committee were Mrs. Edna Moser, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Olive Hutchinson, Mrs. Cora McPaul, Mrs. Hattie Zebell, Mrs. Margaret Morack, Mrs. Cornelia Cornell and Mrs. Mary Pace. The annual election of officers will be held at the meeting two weeks hence.

BEG PARDON

New London—The lecture on astronomy sponsored by the editorial staff of the Monday Morning News, the official high school publication, will be given on Monday evening, instead of on Tuesday evening. This is open to all students and the public and is sure to be of interest to all.

ENGINEER SAILS FOR CHILE NITRATE ZONE

C. A. Chegwin Enroute for South America—Family to Join Him Later

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—C. A. Chegwin, who with his wife and daughter, Patricia, have spent some time as guests of Mrs. Chedwin's sister, Mrs. E. T. Avery of this city, has departed for New York from where he will sail for Chile. Mr. Chedwin is a mining engineer connected with the Anglo-Chilean Consolidated Nitrate corporation and at Tocopilla, Chile. Mrs. Chedwin and little daughter will remain here for a time before joining him.

The trip southward will take about eighteen days and on the way the ship will pass through the Panama canal. Mr. and Mrs. Chedwin will be stationed in Tocopilla for a period of three years, where Mr. Chedwin will be in charge of equipment used in the nitrate fields. Mrs. Chedwin looks forward to the voyage with considerable interest. She said that the homes in the town are all strictly modern, equipped with American plumbing and schools are taught by American teachers. Spanish architecture is used in the furnished home which has been assigned to the Americans. Golf on the beaches, tennis and horseback riding as indulged in by the many American women in the colony will help to make her new home enjoyable. Only fifty miles from Valparaiso, the advantages of city life will be easy to reach. Mrs. Chedwin is studying Spanish in preparation to live among an alien people. She declared that her husband is sailing on the Santa Barbara, the ship which so recently gave aid to the victims taken from the ill-fated Vestria, which sank off the coast of Virginia.

COUNTY BUTCHERS WILL MEET AT SHAWANO DEC. 5

New London—The Waupaca County Butchers association will hold a banquet at Shawano on the evening of Dec. 5, at which will be present several of the state officials from Milwaukee who will attempt to interest dealers-in and about Clintonville and Shawano in organizing a similar association, thus becoming a part of the state society, whose aim is to protect the interests of men trained to the trade. Through the efforts of the organization all butchers are compelled to employ a licensed employee, one who has learned the trade and should therefore be protected from unskilled labor. Meat dealers throughout the state are gradually organizing community societies.

EUREKA!

Washington—Caught by police with a load of liquor in his car, Andrew Davis Minor, in answer to the desk sergeant's question as to the business, he was in, replied, "I'm a bootlegger." Police say this is the first time such an admission was ever made here.

NEW FREMONT GARAGE ALMOST COMPLETED

Special to Post-Crescent
Fremont—Mrs. E. A. Sader entertained the members of the Bridge club Wednesday evening. Mesdames Arthur Brown, I. E. Bauer, George H. Dobbins, E. G. Hammon, N. H. Johnson, H. E. Rudemann, A. M. Sader, E. P. Sherburne, H. A. Schulz and the Misses Lilly Sader, Addie Ostrander and Clara Sherburne. Prizes at cards were won by Mrs. I. E. Bauer, Mrs. E. G. Hammon and Mrs. Arthur Brown.

The members of the Union Ladies Aid society entertained the teachers of the local school at a dinner in the dining room of Hotel Fremont Thursday evening. Thirty-four persons were present. Eight tables of five hundred were played and prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hammon, Mrs. E. A. Sader and A. M. Sader.

Construction work on the large new brick garage of E. J. Sader and Sons has been completed with the exception of some finishing work on the showroom. The heating system is being installed and the lighting fixtures also remain to be placed. "GET SET" FOR WINTER WITH A NEW PONTIAC SIX

TO GET YOURSELF "set" for winter—

To make sure that the car you drive will be free from the common, but annoying cold weather ailments... buy today's Pontiac Six. For with its advanced design, its rugged construction and its thermostatically-controlled cross-flow radiator, today's Pontiac Six provides freedom from winter driving cares offered by no other car in its field.

The cross-flow radiator minimizes losses of alcohol and water through boiling. The thermostat retards the water flow until the engine becomes warm. Hence, less choking is required and less diluting of crankcase oil occurs.

In addition to all these advantages, Pontiac offers all the stamina and dependability for which it is internationally famed. When you drive this great General Motors Six, the approach of cold weather brings no anxiety concerning the performance of your car.

2-Door Sedan, $745; Coupe, $745; Sport Roadster, $745; Phaeton, $775; Cabriolet, $795; 4-Door Sedan, $825; Sport London Sedan, $875. All prices at factory. Check Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices—they include lowest handling charges. General Motors Term Payments Plan available at minimum rate.

STUDY MEANS TO GET GOVERNMENT VALLEY AIRPORTS

Municipalities Must Secure Confidence of Government, Officials Point Out

Means of stimulating public interest in air mail to encourage the government to establish permanent airports in the Fox River valley were discussed at a meeting of postmasters, secretaries of chambers of commerce, and members of a association of commerce for the valley at Beaumont hotel, Green Bay, Friday noon. Appleton men present were Fred F. Wetengel, postmaster, W. O. Thiede, president of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, Fred Schlitz, Kenneth Corbett, and Karl Haugen, president of the North American Airways corporation.

The consensus of opinion was that it is up to the municipalities to gain the confidence of the government. No definite quota as to the amount or weight of mail to be carried between valley cities was set, but it will be up to the municipalities to keep a constant average.

Reports were submitted by leaders in the various cities represented, which gave the condition and stand of the municipalities for providing an

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY FINANCIAL

Cost Reduced Almost One-third On Loans $10 to $300

The Household Finance Corporation by reason of large volume of business, efficient management, and favorable credit facilities, attained after fifty years of operation, is now making a very substantial reduction in the cost of loans up to $300. You can borrow from us for about one-third less than we formerly charged, and about one-third less than the maximum lawful rate. For example, total cost on $50 for one month is $1.25; for five months, paid in five equal monthly payments, is $7.75. All other amounts up to $300 at same proportionate rate.

If you have a loan elsewhere, let us explain our new reduced rate and tell you how much you will save by borrowing from us. You get the money without delay, return it in small monthly payments, arranged to suit your convenience. Each payment of principal reduces the interest.

No endorsers. No one need know. Our service is personal and confidential. We do not notify your employer, neither do we make inquiries of your relatives or tradespeople.

Loans made in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute and other nearby towns.

CHEVROLET WILL INTRODUCE "SIX"

Deliveries of New Model Will Be Delivered to Public Starting Jan. 1

Passing on to the motoring public the benefits of economies arising out of tremendous volume production, the Chevrolet Motor company, today, introduces "the outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet history—a six in the price range of the four."

In making this important announcement, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, points out that the sensational public reception accorded the car in recent years has enabled Chevrolet at this time to offer the added power, speed and smoothness of six cylinder performance at practically the same prices that contributed so much to the world-wide popularity of the four.

Preparations for the greatest year in its history are now being made by the Chevrolet Motor company. Production of the new car was started last week and the company's fifteen giant factories across the country will be turning out cars to be shipped to dealers by December 15. Deliveries to the public will start January first.

In its new offering Chevrolet has retained the highly successful valve-in-head principle. The motor is of the high compression type with a non-detonating head and develops 32 per cent more power than its famous predecessor. Its acceleration is measurably greater and its speed has been stepped up to satisfy maximum requirements. The piston displacement is 194 cubic inches.

Despite this greatly improved performance, standard, thousands of miles of testing under every road and weather conditions at the General Motors Proving ground in addition to many cross country runs, have shown that the new Chevrolet engine will operate with an economy averaging better than 20 miles to a gallon of gasoline. This is practically the same fuel economy enjoyed by the owners of the previous four cylinder model.

The motor develops 48 horsepower at low engine speed and as a result of the automatic lubrication of the valve mechanism the motor is exceptionally quiet throughout the entire speed range.

Seven models of passenger cars and three commercial types comprise the line, which according to General Motors officials, embodies the greatest dollar value ever offered in an automobile. Included in the passenger car line are five bodies this year carry the famous Fisher stamp of craftsmanship. The commercial car line embraces a new and larger utility truck of one and one-half ton capacity, a new light delivery.

From an appearance standpoint as well as from inherent design, the car is completely new with a wide range of attractive colors and fine car appointments formerly found only on the more expensive makes. Despite the score of advanced features, prices remain practically the same, chiefly as a result of the influence of tremendous volume production. The passenger car range is from $225 to $725, f. o. b. Flint, Mich. The prices, according to models, are as follows: roadster $225; phaeton $255; coach $395; coupe $495; sedan $675; sport cabriolet $695; convertible landau $725. The commercial car prices are: light delivery chassis $400; one and one-half ton utility truck chassis $545; one and one-half ton utility truck chassis with cab $550 and the sedan delivery $595. All prices are f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

Advance showings of the new Chevrolet line will be held in leading cities strategically located throughout the country beginning November 24 and continuing until December 22. First deliveries to purchasers will start January first. No deliveries will be made prior to that time, officials stated.

Advance orders will be taken immediately following the announcement with deliveries starting January first, officials stated. They also pointed out that to insure delivery early next year it would be advisable to place orders as soon as possible.

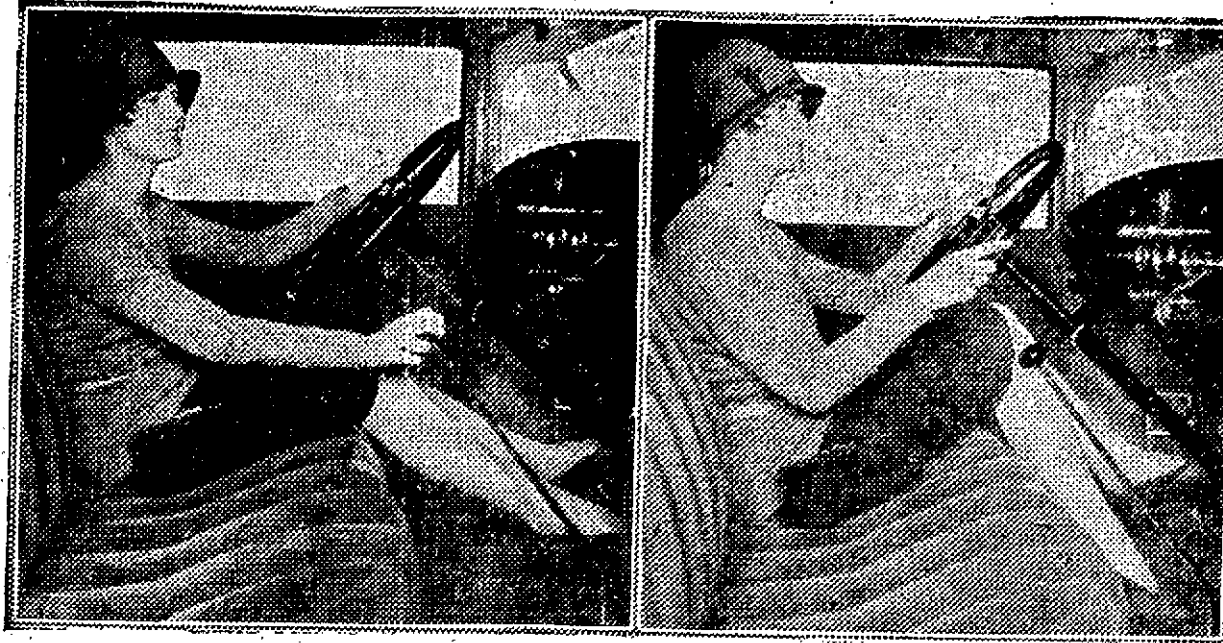

The plan of introductory showings with deliveries to follow after January first was adopted for two reasons, it was explained. In the first place, officials pointed out approximately five weeks will be required to change over the production line from the four to the six in the motor plant at Flint, Mich. Added to this was the necessity for inventory taking, which is customary at this time each year.

At the same time, R. H. Grant, vice-president of the Chevrolet Motor company, in charge of sales, saw in this necessary five week interval an opportunity to provide the sales organization of some 20,000 dealers and salesmen with a means of profitable activity during this period when otherwise they would be comparatively idle.

The new Chevrolet, which on its debut November 24, promises to write a new chapter in motor car history, is in every sense a proved product. Four years ago Chevrolet engineers began their research work, engineering, planning and General Motors proving ground testing. Associated with the Chevrolet engineers were the specialized engineers of the General Motors Research laboratories.

Night and day, in doors and out, in good weather and bad, they designed, built and tested every modern type of motor so that no opportunity would be overlooked—so that every desirable feature might be harmoniously incorporated in the new model. Perhaps a thousand ideas

Height Makes No Difference Now

One of the distinctive features in the new Oakland All-American Six appealing particularly to the woman driver is the adjustable front seat. The illustration shows, on the left, a girl of more than average height in a comfortable position behind the wheel with the seat "far away" for the tall driver. On the right, with the seat set for a person of short stature, the same girl is cramped behind the wheel. An adjustment within convenient reach of the driver moves the entire seat, back and all, to the correct position for any driver by a few turns of an easily operated thumb nut. Every new All-American model has this advanced device, a feature exclusive to Oakland in its price class.

were considered and discussed. More than 100 different motors were built up and given exhaustive test block and road tests before the cabinet of expert engineers, presided over by O. E. Hunt, chief engineer of the Chevrolet Motor company, finally approved the new Chevrolet valve-in-head six cylinder motor.

Speed, acceleration, power and smoothness, to an unusual degree, are offered in the new motor. It is of the high compression type, fully enclosed and with a non-detonating head. It has a three and five-sixteenths bore and a three and three-eighths inch stroke with a 194 cubic inch piston displacement.

The motor develops 32 per cent more horsepower than its famous predecessor and has an abundant source of reserve power for fast getaway, heavy roads and steep grades. New features that contribute to this added power are an improved combustion chamber; a newly designed camshaft and four exhaust and three intake ports.

The speed has been stepped up to satisfy maximum requirements and in acceleration the new motor is vastly superior to any previous Chevrolet model. This remarkable acceleration is due partly to the use of a new accelerating pump. When the accelerator is suddenly depressed this pump forces a small quantity of gasoline into the manifold of the carburetor, giving the car the instant power and get-away so necessary in modern traffic. On actual dynamometer tests the new engine develops 48 horsepower at low engine speed. At all ordinary speeds it develops from three to four times the amount of power required to drive the car.

Torsional vibration is imperceptible at any speed through the use of a heavy 46 pound crank shaft which is perfectly balanced statically and dynamically. A further contribution to the exceptional quietness of the motor is the automatic lubrication of the entire rocker arm mechanism and of all valve operating parts, which in addition are completely enclosed.

Another advanced feature is the fuel pump which insures a positive and uniform supply of gasoline to the carburetor under all driving conditions, regardless of engine speed, load or road grade. A gasoline filter, built in as part of the fuel pump, insures only clean gasoline reaching the carburetor and engine. The carburetor is further protected by a new type AC air cleaner which prevents grit and dust from entering.

There is a combination splash and wick flow method of lubrication with the oil supplied through an oil filter at the bottom of the crankcase by means of a newly designed vane-type pump. There is an oil pressure gauge incorporated in the new instrument panel.

Assuring maximum cooling efficiency there is a large chromium-plated radiator honeycomb radiator with water pump and fan.

The clutch is of the single plate dry disc type and requires no lubrication. The new rear axle is similar in design to that used on the most expensive cars. It is of the semi-floating type with a strong, one-piece, banjo-type, pressed steel housing. Six heavy duty New Departure anti-lubrication ball-bearings and extra heavy cut spiral bevel gears make for smooth driving operation.

The steering gear is semi-reversible of the ball bearing full wheel and gear type. The new shaft is solid, replacing the tubular type formerly used. It is mounted in a bracket securely riveted to the frame. The beautiful seventeen inch black finish steering wheel has a rubber covered spider.

Dependable non-locking four wheel brakes with rear service brakes in two self-acting segments contribute to the quiet, safe operating features of the car.

The service brakes on the 11 inch drums on the rear wheels are of the external contracting type and those on the front of the internal expanding style. The emergency brake lever is conveniently located on the driver's right and operates a braking system independent of the service brakes.

Long chrome vanadium shock absorber steel springs of the semi-clip type are one of the factors accounting for the easy riding qualities of the new car. The springs are set parallel to the frame, assuring safety as well as comfort at all speeds. The front springs are each 26 inches in length and the rear springs 54 inches. The wheelbase is 107 inches. Attractive new colors and a new order of beauty in Fisher body design characterizes the entire passenger car line. The high fashioned hood and the gleaming chromium radiator shell supply the keynote of unusual smartness and grace. The rakish unbroken lined hood lowers suggest speed and alertness. The divided body moulding and the concave front pillars reflect the vogue so widely favored by leading custom buildings, while the larger, longer, lower bodies stand out as tributes to the latest advance in Fisher craftsmanship.

Appointments are the richest and most luxurious ever offered by Chevrolet. The seats are wider and more restful. The driver's seat in all closed models is easily adjustable forward or back, a feature recently introduced on a few of the high priced cars. The redesigned dash carries an attractive grouping of all control instruments indirectly lighted including the new motor temperature indicator. Rich long-wearing upholstery and specially designed Ternerst hardware contribute to the environment of distinction.

Added safety in night driving has been accomplished through the use of a light control switch at the left of the clutch pedal. Instead of dimming the lights the same effect is attained by changing the angle of the new two-beam head lamps by pressing the beam button with the foot. Both hands meanwhile may remain on the wheel directing the course of the car.

A new body style takes its place in the new Chevrolet line, supplanting the Imperial Landau. It is the convertible landau sedan on which the top rear quarter may be completely folded down. The car is finished in Crockett brown with Mistino gray belt and striped in Shalimar orange. Window mouldings are in Mistino gray with upholstery in rich mohair.

The new coach is finished in Norse gray with Helmet gray belt and striped in Tusk ivory. Window mouldings are in Mistino gray and upholstery in blue corduroy. Smart

Coolie blue with Buddha blue belt has been selected as the finish for the coupe. It is striped in Mountain ash scarlet and has window mouldings in Buddha blue. It is upholstered in taupe corduroy.

The sedan is finished in Hunting-ton green with Came green belt and striped in Odyssey ivory. Window mouldings are in Came green and upholstery in green corduroy. The convertible cabriolet is finished in Trianon blue with Delphine blue belt and striped in Tusk ivory. Window mouldings are in Delphine blue. The cabriolet is quickly convertible into a sport roadster by lowering the top. The new phaeton, which has taken the place of the touring car, is finished in Lush green with Zanzibar ivory and has mouldings in Zanzibar green. The roadster is finished in Mistino gray with Estes Park gray belt. Striped in Vincennes red, its mouldings are in Estes Park gray. The top is easily and quickly lowered. A boot for the top is provided.

All models are equipped with parabolic type headlamps, with parking bulbs, operating from the lighting switch. A theft proof electro-lock is also standard. There is a storage battery with composition case; motor driven Klaxon horn; complete tool kit; weatherproof pedal enclosure; automatic spotlight and rear vision mirror.

Both open cars have curtains that open with the doors and a full vision windshield with weather strip and wiper. Coach, coupe, sedan, cabriolet and convertible landau are equipped with military sun visors, a Fisher VV type windshield with automatic type wiper and narrow windshield posts which eliminate blind spots. There are adjustable driver's seats in all closed models and cowl lamps on the cabriolet and convertible landau. Balloon tires, 4.50 by 20 are standard on all passenger models.

BUICK MADE 28,460 CARS IN OCTOBER

Record Production of 1,095 Autos Daily Is Reported Last Month

Flint, Mich.—The unprecedented reception accorded the Silver Anniversary Buick throughout the nation again is demonstrated in figures just announced by C. W. Churchill, general sales manager, which show that 28,460 of the new models were produced in the mile-and-a-half long Buick factory during October, or at the rate of 1,095 cars each working day.

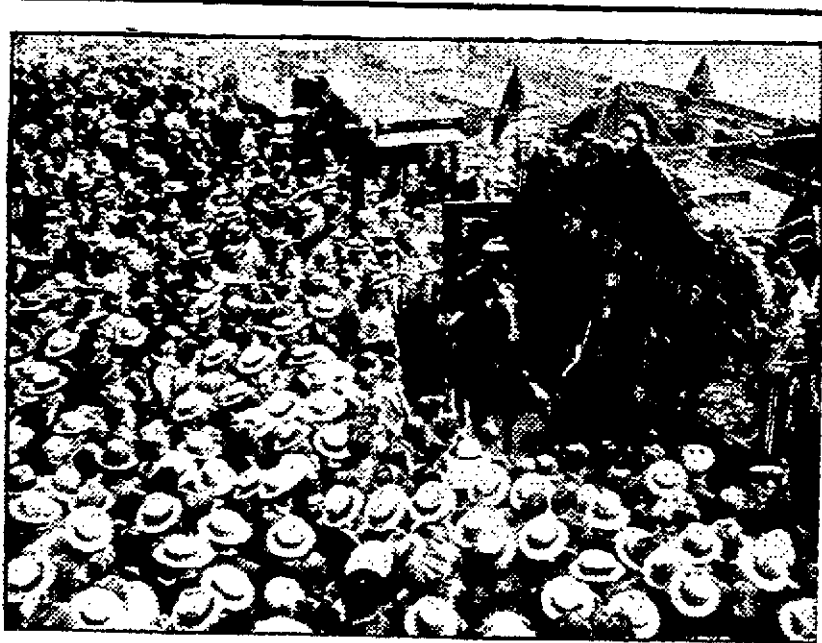

This production, the greatest ever reached by the Buick Company in a single month, exceeds the September mark, which was 26,139, by more than 1500 cars and outdistances

October, 1927, when the production was 22,338, by more than 6,000 cars. Another interesting comparison shows that Buick production for October, 1927, fell off by more than 1,500 cars from that of September, 1927, while for 1928 the situation was almost exactly reversed.

Buyers who desire all the swank and snap of a sport type automobile can now secure it in a low priced car. Six wire wheels, the two spares mounted in front fender wells, with a folding trunk rack for the rear, furnish a sporting appearance on today's Pontiac Six. In keeping with Pontiac's high standard of quality the rings and spare wheel mountings are chrome plated to give bright appearance and prevent corrosion.

Speed Wagons on World Tour

Leo, the only lion to attempt a cross-continent flight and who came down in a crash on the Arizona desert, is now well started on a globe-trotting jaunt which will take him across the United States and to the principal countries of Europe and Asia. But this time Leo is traveling in a Reo Speed Wagon and accompanied by two other Speed Wagons, chosen for their reliability and fitness for such a hazardous undertaking. Reports received by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials indicate that Reo Speed Wagon home on wheels.

NEW HUDSON BODY TYPES AVAILABLE

Additional Styles Include Coupe, Four-door Sedan, Roomy Coach

Besides the four body types mounted on the 127-inch Hudson Super-Six chassis, an additional group of three Hudson body types is available on a 118-inch Hudson Super-Six chassis. These are a coupe with rumble seat, a five-passenger four-door sedan, and an amply roomed coach.

The 118-inch chassis is identical with the 127-inch chassis except for length. It employs the same sturdy axles, wheels and tires; the same effective self-energizing four-wheel brakes; the same type of springs and spring mountings (the rear set spread at their outer ends to prevent sidesway).

Above all, it offers the same brilliant performance from the same high compression Super-Six power plant, turning waste heat to power and using successfully any motor fuel.

These 118-inch Hudson bodies you will find designed and finished with Hudson's typically fine lines, roomy proportions and complete equipment.

They are finished in attractive duotone lacquers with decorated window reveals and attractive striping. Roof lines of flat contour and low oblong windows emphasize their splendid road balance while preserving ample head room and road clearance.

Upholstering is wool and mohair fabric in solid neutral tones to harmonize with exterior body colors. Seat cushions are wide, deep and form-fitting. A pleasant decorative effect is obtained with patterned hardware of the Colonial period; with hured walnut finished window mouldings, and with a tasteful grouping of instruments on a black ebony-finished panel.

Here, the characteristic Hudson beauty and brilliant Super-Six performance that creates a new measure of fine car values—cars that give a new significance to the "vogue of tomorrow."

On either the long or short Hudson chassis you will doubtless find a body type which meets both your personal preference and satisfies your own estimate of fine six-cylinder values.

1929 TO USHER IN BETTER HIGHWAYS

Improvement Will Be Reflected in Larger Tire and Gas Sales

The year 1929 will see the improvement of the nation's highways to the extent of hundreds of thousands of miles, with consequent increase in the annual car mileage, according to Miller-Tire men.

This will be reflected not only in larger increase in tire sales, but also in larger sales of gasoline and oil, and other accessories in the use of automobiles, it is believed.

Authorities are as one in the opinion that with the task of improving main thoroughfares, well under way, the next important step is to improve roads into districts of the main traveled roads, where a large bulk of the rural population lives. It is pointed out that although cars are used at all seasons even off the improved highways, it is often with difficulty, particularly in the winter and spring months.

County officials throughout the country have mapped out programs of intra county and intra township road improvement for the next few years that will increase the mileage of improved roads tremendously, generally at no cost to residents outside the section where the roads are located. Naturally such roads are less expensive than main roads, and gravel, cinders and slag are much used for surfacing.

Road improvements into the rural districts are expected to reduce the traffic on main highways at the usual times of traffic congestion as most motorists out for pleasure driving will take to the less traveled roads. Such a program will speed up traffic flow on main highways and every autist will benefit.

Rural residents may expect increased service from their tires when the rough, unimproved roads are rebuilt. Driving in ruts and over frozen or stony unimproved roads causes notoriously rapid carcass and sidewall wear on tires. Miller "De Luxe" and "Geared-to-the-Road" tires are sold by the Appleton Tire shop, 218 E. College Ave.

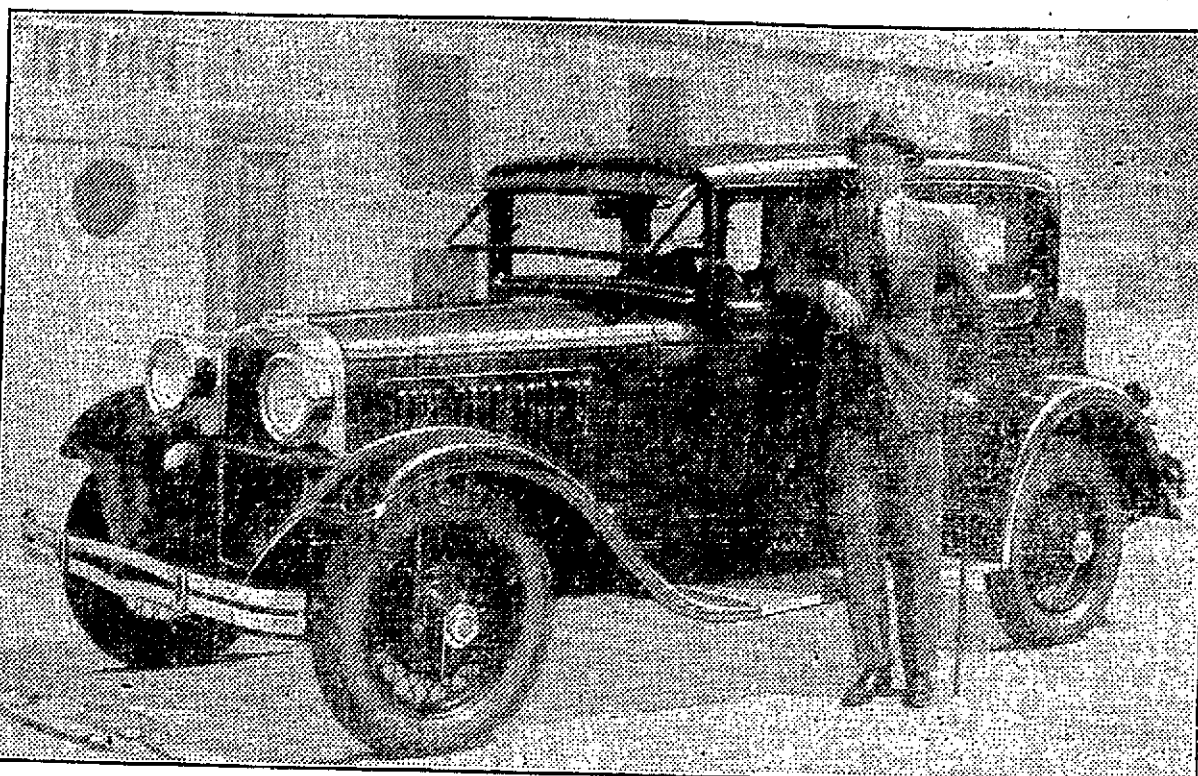

No more significant and striking identification mark exists today on any automobile than the red Indian head which the man who trails behind sees when the Pontiac Six passes him. The Pontiac will maintain a high degree of speed with remarkable endurance, up hill and down and at the end of the journey be none the worse for the test to which it has been subjected, according to its many supporters.

OAKLAND MAKERS SEE BANNER YEAR

Tracy Predicts Volume of 270,000 Oaklands and Pontiacs

Indications that the Oakland Motor Car company in 1928 would top the best previous year in its history by approximately 75,000 cars, or forty per cent, were seen here today when W. R. Tracy, vice president in charge of sales, announced that October volume totaled 17,232 units.

This figure for October compares with 15,618 Oakland and Pontiac Sixes sold last October and ranks the month just ended as the best October in the 22 years the company has been building automobiles.

Total sales for 1928 up to end of October were 243,111 units. Mr. Tracy said, while sales for the entire year of 1927 were 192,000 cars. Last year's sales, however, were forty per cent better than in 1926, when the introduction of the Pontiac Six brought the Oakland Motor Car company for the first time into the volume field.

"On the strength of present demand, I am fully confident that by the close of this year we will have sold upwards of 270,000 Oakland and Pontiac cars," Mr. Tracy stated. "This would better by forty per cent our performance in 1927, which was the most successful year we ever had."

"At the rate orders for the new Oakland are piling up, sales for November should establish a new high figure for the month. Orders now booked assure peak production on Oakland for a long time, while the Pontiac is maintaining the consistently high sales pace it has set since its introduction."

Jaunt but careful detail of appearance and appointments in today's Pontiac Six explain nationwide favor being accorded "the chief of the Sixes."

NEW FORD FRONT AXLE VERY STRONG

"Reverse Elliott" Type Cares for Extra Strain from Brakes

The new Ford front axle is unusually strong and sturdy, retaining all the best qualities which have made Ford front axle construction so notable. This axle is of I-beam section and is of the so-called "Reverse Elliott" type. It is of this design, to provide a better mounting for the front wheel brakes.

The new front axle is made much stronger chiefly to take care of the front wheel brakes which, when strongly and suddenly applied, tend to "bind the wheels to the axle," thus causing a severe twisting stress on the entire front axle assembly. Also, owing to the more powerful engine and better riding qualities of the new Model A Ford, it will be driven at much higher speeds over rough roads. As long as the driver is comfortable, he is not apt to show much consideration for the car.

The Ford front axle has a downward sweep at the center, to give more room for the action of the front spring—as you can see by getting under the car. Even more room would be needed to keep the front spring from "striking bottom"—if it were not for the Houdaille shock absorbers which so well control the action of the springs. The downward sweep from axle gives a lower chassis suspension. Also protects the crank case and fly wheel housing.

Both I-beam front axle and steering knuckles are Chrome alloy steel forgings having a tensile strength of 150,000 pounds per square inch, thus maintaining the Ford reputation for front axle quality. We can all remember that even Model T front axles practically never broke in service—even on overloaded trucks. We could give a Model T front axle three complete twists—without even a sign of fracture.

ORDERS POUR IN FOR DODGE CARS

Shipments for November Jump on Dealers Demand for All Models

Price reductions of $150 to $250 recently announced on all Victory Six and Standard Six models have resulted in unusually heavy demands for cars from Dodge Brothers dealers everywhere. Shipments have been speeded up to take care of orders pouring in to the factory and indications are the November shipments will be one of the heaviest fall months in the history of the company.

The reductions were announced to the public after aggressive work at the factory aiming at volume production and sales.

"At these new low prices, a value before offered in the industry is presented to the public," said John R. Lee, general sales manager. "All models are the latest types built by the company and represent a wide selection of body styles and color combinations. The reductions as announced have brought a quality six on the market at prices formerly paid for a four."

"Motor car buyers seeking the highest possible standards in performance and economy, coupled with dependability long associated with Dodge cars, are now offered an unusual opportunity. A car exactly fitting the transportation needs of millions of people is available at an outstanding saving and sales following these price cuts indicate an enthusiastic recognition of this automotive value."

In service—even on overloaded trucks. We could give a Model T front axle three complete twists—without even a sign of fracture.
